Maine To Georgia Suffers Damage From Siege; Greatest Rainfall For Years In Some Areas

(By the Associated Press.)

Rain fell along the Atlantic seaboard from Maine to Georgia today, disrupting highway travel, causing unestimated damage to crops, isolating whole villages in some sections, and bringing discomfort and gloom to thousands of summer vacationists.

It was the seventh consecutive wet day in many sections, and the prospects for immediate clearing of the skies was slight.

Some people were ready to attribute the abnormal and continuing rainfall to the ancient superstition that rain on St. Swithin's day, July 15, means 40 days of rain.

But the weather bureau, untouched by any such beliefs, said the rain was the result of the presence of a high pressure area off the Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida. This area acted as an effective barrier against the natural eastward movement of the low pressure area and caused heavy precipitation.

Cellars and Roads Flooded.

Cellars and highways were inundated in parts of New York state as fresh rains fell last night. Members of the state flood control commission, on a tour of projects intended to prevent a repitition of the July, 1935, flood which caused 40 lives and $25,000,000 damage, were temporarily marooned in a hotel at Penn Yan.

In Rockland, N. Y., summer boarders were unable to leave an inn where they have been ma-

NAVY BOMBER CRASH KILLS 3

Craft Flying Blind In Rain Storm Cracks Up In Connecticut

WOODBRIDGE, Conn., July 23—(AP)—A United States navy bombing plane, flying blind in a driving rain storm, crashed here today, killing instantly the pilot and two passengers.

Officials at Floyd Bennett Field N. Y., where the ship took off at 11:50 a. m. (C. S. T.) identified the men as:

LIEUT. J. F. McDONOUGH of Boston, Mass.
LIEUT. JUNIOR GRADE, W. J. DRUMTRA of Gloucester, Mass.
AVIATION CADET JOHN RICHARD PATCH of Boston, U. S. N. R.

Sergt. L. E. Turner of the dispatcher's office at the New York field said the men were attached to the YT5 squadron, U. S. S. Yorktown, at Norfolk, Va. The men took off from Norfolk today, stopped at Floyd Bennett for about an hour, and took off for Massachusetts.

SIOUX CITY BAKERY STRIKE CONTINUES

SIOUX CITY, Ia., July 23—(AP)—Negotiations between striking bakery workers and employers which had been in progress two days came to naught this morning, the negotiators having failed to reach an agreement on the two principal issues, seniority rights for drivers and closed shop for bakers.

The strike started 10 days ago when drivers of four major baking companies walked out. Bakers of the same companies joined them the next day. There has been little inconvenience to the public, bread and other bakery stuff having been provided by smaller shops and some having been brought in from outside cities.

Military Patrols In Newton Are Doubled

NEWTON, Ia., July 23—(AP)—The Iowa national guard doubled its military patrols on Newton streets and placed machine guns at the corner of the closed Maytag washing machine plant today, causing considerable excitement among the residents.

Maj. Willard Gaines declared, however, that the guard had "simply altered its plans" somewhat after surveying the situation during the last three days and is "not anticipating" any move to rush the plant.

Madison Hill, trial examiner for the NLRB, declared he now saw no evidence of an immediate union-company settlement by negotiation.

Mercury Mounts Steadily In State

Temperatures were zooming into the 100 degree region in Nebraska Saturday, but there were prospects that local thundershowers might check a hot weekend.

The 1 p. m. reading here was 93 degrees. It was occasional rains which kept the weather comparatively cool for July during the past week. In Lincoln the low reading Friday night was 61 at 5 a. m. and the 8 a. m. reading was 76. The high Friday was 90 at 4 p. m. Cooler temperatures were reported elsewhere in the state. No moisture was reported.

Texans Swarm To Polls

Potency Of Mountain Music Being Tested In Primary

AUSTIN, Tex., July 23—(AP)—The enthusiasm of Texas voters, worked to the highest tempo by the state's unique gubernatorial campaign, was greatly dampened today by heavy rains and floods.

In areas escaping rains and floods, however, great crowds flocked to voting places to mark one of the longest ballots on record.

Houston was the only city reporting an early count. An unofficial count of 430 votes showed W. Lee O'Daniel, Fort Worth flour dealer, leading in the governor's race.

The count was: O'Daniel 193; Thompson, 77; Hunter, 40.

In Dallas thousands swarmed around voting places with the voting machines unable to accommodate them.

Heavy Rain at Uvalde.

Residents in Uvalde, the home of Vice President John N. Garner, were having difficulty in getting to the polls because of a heavy rain.

Not since the incredible race Blacksmith Bob Williams made in 1908 without ever leaving his forge, or, perhaps, the dark horse run of Farmer Jim Ferguson in 1914 has the electorate been so excited by a gubernatorial scramble.

A new personality, W. Lee O'Daniel, converted the campaign into a traveling circus. The Fort Worth flour broker campaigned atop a sound truck with a blaring hill billy band and a promise of $30 monthly pensions for the aged—whether they be millionaire or indigent.

Strong Opponents.

Never has the democratic primary field bulged with such strength. O'Daniel's chief opponents are Attorney General William McGraw, who was re-elected

Chapin Estate Totals $198,039

Major Portion Made Up Of Realty Holdings, Appraisal Shows

James W. Kinsinger, appraiser of the estate of Howard A. Chapin, sr., who died Feb. 14, 1938, filed a report in County court Saturday listing property owned by Mr. Chapin at the time of his death. Without deductions for encumbrances or liens it was worth $198,039.88, the report stated.

Real estate was listed at $178,000, and personal property made up the balance of $20,039.88. The real estate included half interest in two lots at Fourteenth and O streets, occupied by the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power company, and half interest in one lot and a part of another at Thirteenth and N streets, the site of the Woodmen Accident building.

The personal property includes the following stocks: 128 shares Beatrice Creamery Co., common, $2,112; 60 First National bank of Lincoln, $9,000; 90 Incorporated Investors, capital $1,449; 15 American Smelting and Refining Co. common, $738.75; 50 Texas Pacific Land Trust, $556.25; 14½ shares Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, capital $710.50; 50 American Rolling Mills, common, $943.75; 90 Allied Stores Corp., common, $663.75; and household goods, $1,000 ;and cash, $1,886.19.

Plan Bond Election

HOLDREGE, Neb., July 23—(AP)—Mayor Frank A. Anderson said today he would call a special session of the city council next Monday evening to consider a special election to approve the issuance of bonds for a municipal building and swimming pool. Secretary Ickes has already approved PWA grants for the projects totaling $83,250.

SNOW IN JULY ON PIKE'S PEAK

This youth and girl cast aside summer sport togs when they ascended to the summit of Pike's Peak. They dressed for winter and were glad of it. The worst July snowstorm in years whitened the peak and reddened ears and noses. But the climb up the 14,101-foot mountain, just outside Colorado Springs, Colo., was worth it, this pair agreed.

Hull Unconcerned Over Japanese, Russian Dispute

WASHINGTON, July 23—(AP)—Secretary Hull indicated today he was little concerned over the tension between Japan aind Russia resulting from soviet occupation of a disputed border point.

Basing his judgment on state department advices, he said nothing that has been reported was of sufficient importance to merit detailed discussion.

Latest news reports, he noted, indicate tension has lessened in the last 24 or 36 hours.

7 To Withdraw As East Nebraska Power Directors

Dr. Fitzsimmons Giving Up Post of President and Project Manager

Reorganization plans for the directorate of the Eastern Nebraska public power district call for the withdrawal of seven of the ten board members and temporary appointments by the remaining three to serve until next January, Boyd Fisher, REA official, reported here following a meeting at Tecumseh Friday.

Dr. A. P. Fitzsimmons, president and project manager of the district, Fisher said, has agreed to resign from the board effective Aug. 1. Dr. Fitzsimmons now is a candidate for congress.

Three other directors who are now candidates for public offices are also expected to resign, Fisher said. They are Mrs. Mable Gillespie of Gretna, Joe Reavis of Falls City, and N. A. Steinauer of Steinauer.

Another trio, George Craven, George Kline and Mrs. Belle Betz, all of Lincoln, were lopped from the directorate when the boundaries of the district were recently changed, eliminating the Lincoln area.

Thus, when the resignations come in, Fisher explained, there will be but three of the ten directors left: Joe Rudolph of Eagle, William Bischof, jr., of Nebraska City, and C. H. Gustafson of Mead. These remaining three, he said, are to appoint seven persons who are current consumers or prospective consumers of the district and

6 Days Left For Voters to Register

The city clerk's office will be open evenings next week from 7 to 9 o'clock for the registration of voters wanting to qualify for the August 9 primary election. Registrations also will be accepted from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Electors who nave not registered when the office closes next Saturday evening, will not be able to vote.

There were 62 new registrations Friday, and 75 change of addresses. Seventy-five cards were completed Saturday morning.

Of the new Friday registrations 40 were republicans, 21 democrats, and one registered as "non-partisan."

New Clash Of Japanese And Russ Troops

Danger Of Real Conflict Believed Diminishing; Nippon Move To Occupy Island Repulsed

MOSCOW, July 23—(AP)—Despite news of another border clash in which soviet Russian troops repulsed a Japanese attempt to occupy an island in the Ussuri river, Moscow circles viewed the Far Eastern situation with calm confidence today.

The danger of a real conflict with Japan was regarded as diminishing, rather than increasing.

As expressed by the government organ, Izvestia, "the Japanese militarists have their mouths full of China."

Dispatches from Khabarovsk, Siberian city near the Manchoukuo border, said two Japanese-Manchoukuo motorboats violated the soviet frontier near the settlement of Vidnoye Thursday and landed a military detachment on the island of Faingov in the Ussuri river.

Soviet Cutter Fired Upon.

The report said a soviet cutter was fired upon soon after the occupation and in the brisk exchange two Japanese-Manchoukuo soldiers were wounded, and a machine gun and five Japanese rifles captured, along with a supply of ammunition.

"New reinforcements continually are needed in China," Izvestia explained. "The Kwantung army (Japans' army of occupation in Manchoukuo), which always has hoped and still hopes for an anti-soviet war and needs considerable forces for its further domination of Manchuria, is afraid it will be compelled to send troops to bolster up the Japanese army at present sinking in China."

Izvestia said by creating incidents along the border the Kwantung army hoped to persuade the Japanese high command that the army there should not be weakened but on the contrary, strengthened.

Decrease In Excitement.

The encounter, said Tass (Russian) news agency, occurred on the Ussuri river, north of the Changkufeng district—near where Siberia, Japanese Korea and Manchoukuo meet, and where red soldiers on July 11 occupied a piece of land which both Russia and Manchoukuo claim.

The general impression here was that the soviet's firm attitude toward the Japanese demands for withdrawal from Chankufeng would not be followed by a drastic move on Tokyo's part. There was consequently a noticeable decrease in excitement over the incident, although there was a spirit of watchful waiting.

LILIENTHAL ASSERTS TVA RATES SOUND

Director Says Dr. Morgan Failed To Understand Theory Proposed For Power Costs

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 23—(AP)—Sharp conflict between TVA engineers and advisory committees composed chiefly of university professors was a major cause of delay in determining TVA cost allocations, Director David E. Lilienthal testified today.

Appearing for the second day before a congressional investigation committee, Lilienthal said differences between the engineers under Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, deposed chairman, and the advisory committees reached a point where two committee members were ready to resign, because they concluded "they did not enjoy Arthur Morgan's confidence x x x"

Report Adopted.

The committee made a final report in March, 1937, and the board adopted it.

His testimony was a discussion of the delay by the TVA in reporting to the president the authority's allocation of costs in building Norris, Wheeler and Wilson dams.

Lilienthal said a valuation committee was named in 1935 to appraise properties at Muscle Shoals as the basis for cost allocations.

Lilienthal testified yesterday that the rate-making policy had the approval of President Roosevelt and the federal power commission. He told the committee "TVA rates are sound" and are in fact "too high."

Denies Morgan Assertion.

The witness denied Dr. Morgan's assertion that the basis for TVA rates had never been revealed and that he (Lilienthal) once referred to them as "little more than a guess." He declared also there was no foundation for the statement that "TVA is selling power without knowing what that power costs."

The misunderstanding over rates, Lilienthal said, was caused largely by "Arthur Morgan's failure to understand the theory I proposed."

The TVA's delay in reporting to congress on cost allocation of dam and reservoir projects was not, he said, as Dr. Morgan charged, "a deliberate effort x x x to keep congress and the public from knowing what these costs are, and the way in which TVA rates were established."

This delay, Lilienthal said, was partly due to Dr. Morgan's "lack of confidence in the persons and the groups to whom the work was assigned, and the maladroitness of his administrative methods."

Kingsley Dam Wins Approval

Federal Power Commission Says Project Is Desirable One

WASHINGTON, July 23—(AP)—The federal power commission approved today construction of the Kingsley dam on the North Platte river by the Central Nebraska power and irrigation district.

The commission found the project "desirable and justified in the public interest for the purpose of improving or developing the North Platte and Platte rivers for the use and benefit of inter-state commerce" on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers.

The ruling made it possible, the commission said, for the district to bring condemnation proceedings in Federal court "for the acquirement of lands and properties necessary for the construction, maintenance or operation" of the project.

"The operation of the project," the commission said, "will result in the storage of flood waters and the release of impounded water at a gradual rate, thus reducing flood flows in the North Platte and Platte rivers below the project works, and increasing low water flows, the result of which will be to make the flow in the Platte river more nearly uniform.

"The operation of the project will result in a reduction of the discharge of sediment from the Platte river into the Missouri river, thus facilitating the maintenance of navigation channels in the Missouri river."

Valuations In Lincoln Total $75,153,185

Returns Compiled By Mathews Show Gain Of $402,935 Over 1937 Figures

Lincoln real estate valuations for taxation purposes, as returned to Finance Director Theo Berg by P. H. Mathews, tax commissioner Saturday aggregate $75,153,185, an increase of $402,935 over the valuations for 1937. This increase, however, is $423,975 less than the gain of $826,910 shown by the county assessor on the same property. The county's total is $66,875,510.

According to Director Berg all of the valuations have not been returned to him by the county, personal tax and other amounts not being available. These with the real estate totals determine the amount that the city can levy for the general operating expenses. Under a provision of the charter adopted during the regime of Don L. Love as mayor, the limit to which the city is restricted is not more than 7¾ mills on the total valuations fixed by the county. In 1937 that was $99,500,343.

Due To New Homes.

The increased city valuations, Commissioner Mathews said, are due almost entirely to the construction of new homes, with some readjustments in the ground values. For the most part the new homes are in that section of the city south of Van Dorn street, and east of Thirteenth street.

A study of the records shows that in the old original city, there has been a loss in the year of $106,000. However, in one book new homes alone in the southeast part of the city revealed a gain of $110,000. Others will show equally as much.

R. D. Garrison Hurt When Car Overturns

R. D. Garrison, 36, suffered a cut on his forehead and a cut lefthand finger in an auto accident near Fortieth and O streets Saturday noon. Garrison was nearly home when the accident happened. He lives at 4247 O street.

According to the police report Garrison started to swing out around a car driven by Charles E. Taylor, 26, 432 South Thirteenth street, when the wheels apparently locked. Garrison's car went across the street and up the curb where it rolled over. The car was badly damaged. Taylor took Garrison home.

Pearl White, One-Time Film Star, Gravely Ill

PARIS, July 23—(AP)—Pearl White, blonde dare-devil star of the old silent movie serials, was reported today in an "alarming" condition at the American hospital.

Physicians to the 49-year-old actress, gravely ill of a liver ailment, said she had taken a turn for the worse over night. They said she showed increasing signs of weakness and fatigue.

In retirement from films, Miss White has lived in reecnt years at her town house here and her country chateau at Gazeran, near Rambouillet, outside Paris.

Trio Found Alive In Lava Badlands Of New Mexico

Amateur Explorers, Missing Four Days, Located Unharmed Near Ice Caves

GRANTS, N. M., July 23—(AP)—Three Kentucky women tourists, missing since Tuesday in the rugged lava badlands southwest of Grants, were found alive and apparently well shortly before noon today.

State Policeman Kenneth McCullough telephoned from the tiny lumber camp of Paxton Springs that the three were found about three miles west of the Perpetual Ice Caves, where their automobile was abandoned Tuesday.

The women are Miss Irene Piedalue, 45, home demonstration agent for Clark county, Kentucky; her sister, Miss Laura Piedalue, 47, New York welfare worker, and Miss Marie Antoinette De Laforrest, French instructor of the University of Kentucky.

Become Lost.

They had wandered into the desolate lava country surrounding the caves and become lost.

McCullough said the fact they traveled only three miles in four days indicated they had kept their heads and had not exhausted themselves by fruitless struggling through the needle sharp lava formation.

He said they appeared to be in good condition.

The women were bruised and exhausted, but appeared happy in spite of the fact they wandered four days without food and with little water or sleep.

Their shoes were shredded from struggling over the jagged lava flow and their feet were lacerated.

A physician, nurses and an ambulance were sent from Grants.

Signals flashed from a mirror in the hand of a searcher gave the first indication the women had been found, and officers hurried to the scene and carried them to safety.

Expected At Billings.

The three had been expected to arrive shortly at Billings and Lewistown, Mont., to visit sisters of the Misses Piedalue. Concern for their safety was expressed there by relatives, who had re-

Recovery Signs Give Stocks A Forward Push

NEW YORK, July 23—(AP)—Big demand for motor shares turned on the green light for another forward push in the stock market just before the finish of the week's dealings today.

Suggestions from trade sources the country may face a new car shortage late in the year if recent sales improvement continues, seemed to excite speculation in automobile stocks. General Motors in heavy trading was whirled up nearly $2 to $43.50, the highest quoted this year. Chrysler spurted $1.37 to $73.25.

Expectations of a further rise in steel production next week helped the industry's stocks fall in line on the advance. U. S. Steel jumped $1.50 to $62.37, duplicating the previous peak of the summer bull market ,and Bethlehem closed $1.75 higher at $62.12. Many other stocks were up $1 to $3 at the finish after a slow start which prolonged the uncertain movements of the preceding two sessions.

Emphasizing the recovery urge in the market place was a further advance in railroad bonds, the storm center of the early spring selling.

Leading business barometers so far in July have recorded the sharpest gains since industry hit the decline late last summer following a long expansion from the 1932-33 depths.

FOREST FIRE RAGING OUT OF CONTROL

Worst In Vancouver Isle History; Several Towns In Peril

SEATTLE, July 23—(AP)—Pillars of fire danced madly through virgin Vancouver island timber today as the worst forest fire in the island's history burned uncontrolled and dangerously close to several communities.

The blaze, 100 miles north of Victoria, was the worst in the fire-dotted Pacific northwest even before it doubled its area in eight hours yesterday. Officials estimated it had covered more than 100,000 acres.

Many Logs Consumed.

At Headquarters most of 40,080,000 feet of yarded logs went up in smoke despite the efforts of loggers turned firemen. Buildings in the village escaped damage because streams of water were played on them constantly.

The main fire "crowned" inland before brisk winds. Canadian forest officials said the punk-dry forests virtually exploded. The leaping flames advanced upon Bevan and Cumberland, coal mining towns. Fifty sailors from the Canadian destroyer Fraser were sent to Bevan to help protect the town.

People Ready to Flee.

Another fire, which yesterday destroyed Forbes Landing, leaped forward anew and enveloped 35,000,000 board feet of felled timber. The town of Cambellton was in constant danger and residents were ready to flee.

Cooler weather and diminishing winds brought encouragement to thousands fighting some 350 fires in Washington and Oregon.

Fifteen hundred men, aided by airplanes, fought two fires in northern California forests.

The worst blaze advanced along a 122-mile front in the Klamath national forest.

Kearney Dorm Grant Accepted

$72,000 Federal Aid For $160,000 Structure; To Start Work Soon

The state normal school board met at the capitol and completed its acceptance of a $72,000 PWA grant for construction of the $160,000 boys' dormitory building at the Kearney normal school. Work will start just as soon as the plans and specifications are completed, said Fred Andersen, board comptroller.

Anderson said that the presidents of the four normal schools all report a greater attendance at their summer schools this year than during previous summers. Peru reported 721, Chadron, 744, Wayne 1,113 and Kearney 1,183.

It was also stated that the new boys' dormitory at Wayne, to house 150 students and the one at Chadron, to house 116 students, will be finished and ready for occupancy at the beginning of the regular term this fall.

The board, Andersen said, also approved plans for a faculty building at Chadron to cost approximately $25,000 and to be constructed with a 45 per cent PWA grant and 55 per cent from the faculty retirement fund, and a $10,000 WPA grant for sewer construction, at Kearney, and extending the water mains to the athletic field.

2 Florida Convicts Kill Guard And Flee

Slayers Force Two Legislators From Car; Pair Is Hunted In Swamp by Posse

INVERNESS, Fla., July 23—(AP)—A posse searched a swamp 20 miles southeast of here today for two convicts who killed a prison guard and took the automobile of two Florida legislators in a dash for freedom.

Guards at the Floral City camp, south of here, said the convicts were Bruce Parrish, serving 20 years for robbery and Art Sherman, seving 25 years for robbery. Officers said they used a shotgun to kill Guard W. L. Waters late yesterday. The gun apparently had been concealed in the bottom of a pit where the two had been working.

The two halted an automobile carrying J. M. Ayres of Trenton and Halley B. Lewis of Williston, legislators, forced them from the car and fled.

Corrigan Wants An Aviation Job

DUBLIN, July 23 — (AP) — Douglas G. Corrigan declared flatly today that "my career is in the air," as a growing assortment of commercial offers became annoying.

"I wish they would understand the only thing I am interested in is flying," the young Californian, who arrived here Monday after a trans-Atlantic flight in a $900 plane, asserted as he was planning a "nice lazy week-end" before going to London to be the guest of American Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy.

"I don't care what new job I take up when I get home so long as it has to do with flying and the prospects are good," he said. "The air has always been in my blood. My career is in the air."

The staff of the American legation where Corrigan has been a guest since arriving said he "has been the cheapest man to keep we have ever had." He breakfasts on a glass of water, and he neither smokes nor drinks.

F.D.R. Speeds To Galapagos Isles

ABOARD U. S. S. HOUSTON, in equatorial Pacific, July 23—(AP)—President Roosevelt found ample time today to continue his study of government documents and memoranda as the Houston carried him toward new fishing and sight-seeing spots in the storied Galapagos islands.

The Houston sped at 22 knots over the 1,300-mile course between Clipperton island, last previous stop, and the Galapagos.

Ships' officers were confident they would have Mr. Roosevelt at the Galapagos Sunday afternoon for a week's stay in the fanciful archipelago lying along the equator, more than 500 miles west of Ecuador.

Marilou Williams And Darwin Liggett To Marry In August

THERE wouldn't be much point in trying to convince you that it was a gay and giddy week-end — for after you had read our three paragraphs you'd know that it was just a big bluff—So, on to the three paragraphs and call it a day—

THE FIRST one will interest Pi Beta Phi and Sigma Nu circles—for it is the announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Marilou Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams of Fort Morgan, Colo., to Darwin Liggett of Milwaukee. The marriage will take place August 2, in Fort Morgan.

Both Miss Williams and Mr. Liggett attended the University where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi, and Mr. Liggett of Sigma Nu.

OFF YESTERDAY for a Georgian Bay cruise were Mrs. W. M. Morning and Mrs. Effie L. Scott. In Detroit they will be joined by Mrs. C. B. Letton who will make the trip with them. Mrs. Scott will return to Lincoln July 30.

* * *

OVER AT THE University club today, Mrs. Mary A. Fairchild was a sixsome luncheon hostess, complimenting her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. J. Spurway of Girard, Ill., who is her week-end house guest. Mrs. Spurway came to Lincoln from Shenandoah, Ia., where she has been visiting, and will return to her home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Derksen Observe Anniversary

In honor of their silver wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Derksen, jr., entertained the members of the Lincoln Harvard Girls club and their husbands at a lawn party Wednesday evening at their home, 1625 South Thirteenth street. Miss Vera Ann Salzman gave two vocal solos, with piano-accordion accompaniment. Refreshments were served. The host and hostess were presented with silver gifts. Guests from out of town were Mrs. Derksen's sister, Mrs. Harry Graybill, and Mr. Graybill, of Omaha; and Mr. Derksen's cousin, John Derksen, Mrs. Derksen, and family, of Mountain Lake, Minn.

Britain Confers On Czech Issue With Germany

Possible Non-Aggression Pact Among Nazis, France, Russia

LONDON, July 23 — (AP) — Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was disclosed authoritatively today to have given the German ambassador "certain assurances" of continued British efforts in Czechoslovakia for solution of the Sudeten German minority dispute.

A semi-official account of yesterday's interview between the premier and Ambassador Dr. Herbert Von Dirksen before the latter left for Germany said, however, "no concrete proposals were made on either side nor was any new suggestion under discussion."

It was stated that "in the course of a friendly conversation before going on leave, the German ambassador gave renewed assurance of Germany's peaceful intentions and the desire of his government to seek an amicable and satisfactory solution of the Sudeten German question."

In return, it was added, "the prime minister, on his side, gave the German ambassador certain assurances regarding the continued exercise of his majesty's government of their good offices in Praha."

Closer Anglo-German Relations Sought.

German assurances of the desire for closer Anglo-German relations had been brought to Britain by Chancellor Hitler's adjutant, Capt. Fritz Wiedemann, on the eve of the departure of King George for a good will visit to France.

Talk of new "peace-preserving" alignments swirled over Europe as British, French and German leaders—each with a wary eye on the others—discussed with their own aides means of relieving central European tension.

Some quarters close to the London government mentioned the possibility of a non-aggression pact among France, soviet Russia and Germany as a possible way out of a muddle arising from self-government demands of nazi-supported Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia.

Another Suggestion.

Another suggestion was that Germany might approve a four-power plan involving France, Germany, Britain and Italy to work out a solution.

Still another was a reported German willingness to enter immediately a non-aggression pact with Czechoslovakia if the Sudeten problem could be answered.

The French cabinet was called to meet today in a special session to review the French position in the light of the latest diplomatic moves.

In Paris the feeling was reported that the "German gesture" of peace might be an adroit move by Hitler to separate France and Britain.

Riggs Seeded First At Seabright Tourney

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 23—(INS)—Bobby Riggs, ranked second nationally, has been seeded first and Frankie Parker and Bitsy Grant second and third respectively in the field of 48 which will compete in Seabright's annual invitation tennis tournament, starting Monday, it was announced today by Charles D. Halsey, chairman of the tournament committee. Thirty-two have been entered in the women's division.

RANDOLPH, Neb., July 23—(AP) — A new 150-horsepower Diesel engine soon will be installed in the city light plant here at a cost of $13,000, officials said today.

CENTER OF RUSSO-JAPANESE QUARREL

This map shows the new Far East trouble zone—an area near the junction of Siberia (soviet Russia), Japanese-controlled Manchoukuo and Korea. The Japanese press avers that Japanese territory at Changkufeng was invaded July 11. Russia twice has rejected Japanese demands for withdrawal of troops from the area. Larger map shows proximity of the disputed zone to Vladivostok. Smaller map shows its distance from the principal Japanese island.

OCEAN-FLYING PLANES MEET AT NEW YORK

Germany's 19-ton catapult flying boat Nordmeer (North Sea) is shown at Port Washington, N. Y., trans-Atlantic airport, after having completed a 2,397-mile flight from the Azores in 17 hours, 41 minutes. The experimental flying boat is catapulted from ships at a speed of 110 miles an hour. In right background is the Mercury, British Imperial Airways 10-ton "pick-a-back" plane, which arrived from Ireland on the previous day.

Japanese Cross Lake For Attack On Big Air Base

Invaders Assault Kiukiang, Key Point In Push Toward Hankow

SHANGHAI, July 23—(AP)—Japanese naval and land forces began a long-awaited assault today on Kiukiang, key point in the push toward Hankow.

A Japanese naval communique announced landings were effected at several points on the southern shores of the Yangtze river, putting the invaders within 10 miles of Kiukiang, 135 miles down the Yangtze from the Chinese provisional capital.

These developments followed by a few minutes the Japanese success in crossing the narrow entrance to Poyang lake 10 miles east of Kiukiang, after three weeks of terrific bombardments. The Japanese thus gained a favored position for a drive against the big Nanchang air base.

The communique said Japanese aviators intensively bombed Chinese troops manning defenses on the Yangtze's south bank while other fliers machine-gunned Chinese forces attempting to halt the Japanese infantry.

Kiukiang's defenses had been badly shattered by repeated raids and the Chinese "scorched earth" policy of leaving nothing useful behind, but Chinese fighters remaining in the city took positions in hastily-dug street trenches and ruined buildings to await the approach of 8,000 Japanese massed at nearby Hukow.

British Freighter Searched.

HONGKONG, July 23—(AP)—British authorities received a report from the British freighter Leana today that she had been stopped and searched by a Japanese warship 10 miles off Hongkong after a warning shot had been fired across her bow.

The 2,915-ton freighter, which left Manila May 11 for Hongkong, was the first foreign vessel to be fired upon during the Japanese south China blockade.

Meanwhile, Chinese reported 300 persons were killed or wounded in a heavy Japanese air raid on Changsha, in which the raiders machine-gunned civilians in the streets.

The Chinese also said that more than 100 persons were killed during a Japanese bombardment of Namoa island, off Swatow, on the south China coast.

Coach Fares Not To Be Boosted In West

CHICAGO, July 23 — (AP) — Officials of the major western railroads decided today not to fall in line with the eastern roads by increasing passenger coach fares.

Harry G. Taylor, chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives, said the western presidents agreed that different transportation conditions in the west made it "inadvisable to make any upward adjustment in passenger fares."

Coach fares in the east were recently hiked from two cents a mile to 2.5 cents on authorization of the interstate commerce commission. The western coach rates of two cents a mile were adopted in 1933 independently of the commission.

Taylor said the executives felt that greater distances between stops in the west, with consequent higher transportation costs, and greater automobile competition, made lower rates more advantageous than in the congested east.

ABOUT PEOPLE

Some of the ladies of the auxiliary of R. R. T., and other friends entertained at a 1 o'clock covered dish luncheon Thursday at the home of Mrs. Cora Long honoring Mrs. Long's daughter, Mrs. Royal Brune who is leaving soon to make her home in Galveston, Tex. Mrs. Brune was represented with a handkerchief shower and the after luncheon hours were spent informally.

To Teach In Illinois

(Special to The Star.)

DILLER, Neb., July 23 — Miss Alice Line has resigned her position as home economist with the Nebraska Power company at Omaha, and is visiting here with her mother, Mrs. Jennie L. Line. She has been elected teacher of home economics in the high school at Niles Center, Ill.

Schumacher Injured In Fall From Ladder

Theodore F. Schumacher, 78, 1822 South Fifty-sixth street, suffered concussion, a lacerated hand, dislocated finger, and possible injury to the pelvis when he fell from a ladder while trimming a tree at his home early Friday evening. He was taken by ambulance to Lincoln General hospital, but the attending physician did not consider his condition immediately serious. Schumacher was unconscious for a short time following the mishap.

Langer Claims Intimidation In Dakota Primary

WASHINGTON, July 23—(AP)—Gov. William Langer of North Dakota, who was defeated by Senator Nye (R.-N. D.) in the recent republican senatorial primary in that state, complained to the senate campaign investigating committee today that relief workers were intimidated.

Chairman Sheppard (D.-Tex.) announced he would call a committee meeting next week to consider the Langer complaint, another complaint by Senator George (D.-Ga.), and recent political statements of Harry Hopkins, works progress administrator.

George complained to the committee that the Georgia director of the national emergency council had been dismissed because "he proposes to vote for me" in the Georgia democratic senatorial primary; NEC Chief Lowell Mellett responded that "the senator's being a little ridiculous," and said the Georgia official resigned.

Backing F. D. R., Hopkins Says.

Hopkins became a subject of committee interest this week when he said at a press conference that he believed 90 per cent of the people on federal work relief rolls were for President Roosevelt.

Sheppard said he was wiring other committee members he wanted to have a meeting "not later than Wednesday or Thursday of next week to consider all matters that have developed."

Langer's complaints were made in response to a committee questionnaire. The North Dakota governor said he had received "reports of WPA workers being intimidated" and also of "the wrongful use of the senate franking privilege."

Salzburg Festival Opens

SALZBURG, Germany, July 23—(AP)—The curtain rose tonight on the first nazi staging of the celebrated Salzburg festival with Wilhelm Fuertwangler conducting Wagner's "Meistersinger."

Paul Joseph Goebbels, German propaganda minister, earlier had cancelled the formal ceremony of opening the festival, giving rise to false rumors that Fuertwangler suddenly had withdrawn.

Goebbels, Arthur Seysz-Inquart, governor of German Austria, and other nazi notables attended the opening performance.

Asked for the reason for cancellation of the opening ceremony at which Goebbels was to have spoken, an official said it was dropped only to assure a prompt curtain-raising on the evening's opera.

A. L. Rushton Is Given Judgment For $45,843

OMAHA, July 23—(AP)—Arthur L. Rushton, former president of the Rapid Air Lines, was given an uncontested judgment of $45,843 against the company and directors in District court here Friday.

Rushton alleged that his loan to the company was secured by the company's hangar at Municipal field here and 8,242 shares of capital stock. The hangar and securities are to be sold at sheriff's auction Aug. 18, unless the judgment is satisfied, the court ruled.

The company's operations were taken over by Hanford Airlines in 1935.

LOVER KILLS GIRL AND WOUNDS SELF

DECATUR, Ga., July 23—(AP)—Sgt. George Jackson of the Dekalb county police, said a 16-year-old girl was shot to death and her soldier sweetheart critically wounded early today in a "lovers' suicide pact."

Sergeant Jackson said the girl was Sara George of Tucker, Ga., and the man Richard H. Denham, 21-year-old private stationed at Fort McPherson in Atlanta.

Sergeant Jackson said Denham, held in an Atlanta hospital under technical arrest, admitted shooting the girl and wounding himself.

A note bearing Denham's name and found in the girl's pocketbook, read:

"Don't ever fall in love unless you can make a go of it, because you may do the same thing that I have done. Sara's people didn't want me to go with her, but we loved one another so much something had to be done."

Open Roller Bids

W. E. Grace of Dallas, Tex., was low bidder Saturday when offers were opened for the purchase by the city of a tamping roller, the engineer's estimate on which was $1,100. There were five bidders The tamper is to be used in the construction of a hard surface road in Pioneers park. After that work is completed it will be used for street department operations in all sections of the city. The offers:

W. E. Grace, four bids ranging from $737 to $798.

Nose Is Fractured

KIMBALL, Neb., July 23—(AP) — Mrs. Marie Stormberg suffered a fractured nose and severe facial bruises today when Ben Stormberg's automobile went over an embankment north of Bushnell after a tire blew out. Four other occupants of the machine escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

Children Witness Archery Demonstration

More than 200 children Friday night witnessed archery demonstration at the Hayward school by Joe Ovington of Omaha, an archery expert. Saturday morning the demonstration was repeated for more than 100 in Havelock.

Mr. Ovington will be in Lincoln teaching archery all of next week. At the same time he is showing Indian relics. His coming here is in connection with the promotion of the Nebraska historical pageant early in August.

He has never in all his life met a more enthusiastic group of young folks than those who made up the groups Friday night and Saturday, Mr. Ovington said. He was "surprised," he added, to find that some of these at Hayward school were "very proficient" in making Indian moccasins. "The remarkable part of their accomplishment," he declared, "is the fact that universally the moccasins are correctly shaped at the great to, especially in view of the youngsters using automobile inner tubes as materials."

Two Boys Sought

Two missing boys were being sought by police Saturday. Leroy Heineke, 20, of Marysville, Kas., left his home Friday and is believed to be headed for Idaho. It was thought he might stop in Lincoln to visit relatives. Marcus Smedeker, 11, left his farm home near Roca about 3 o'clock Friday afternoon and has not been seen since that time. He was wearing overalls and no shirt at the time he left home.

COURT RULING HITS STRIKE SIT-DOWNERS

Judges Hold Employer May Discharge Workers Who Seize Property

CHICAGO, July 23—(AP)—A Federal court ruling that an employer may discharge workers who seize property in sit-down strikes appeared headed today for a Supreme court review.

The decision was rendered last night by the United States Circuit court of appeals.

It set aside a national labor relations board order finding the Fansteel Metalurgical Corp. guilty of unfair labor practices and directing the reinstatement of 92 men discharged Feb. 17, 1937, when they occupied the company's North Chicago plant.

The court majority, Judges Will M. Sparks and Walter C. Lindley, held the workers lost their status as employes when the company discharged them and hence "there was no longer a majority of petitioners' employes who were members" of the union which sought collective bargaining rights.

Just Cause For Discharge.

"It is urged by the board that the commission of a crime by strikers does not preclude their right to bargain with petitioner," the majority opinion said. "This we admit, provided they still are employes and represent a majority of all.

"What we hold is that there was just cause for discharge, it was exercised, and those who have not been re-employed are not employes and were not at the time of the findings and order of the board."

In a dissenting opinion, Judge Walter E. Treanor contended the strikers remained employes for the duration of the strike. He also said illegal acts by employes did not give the company a right to unlawfully defy the labor board.

Wants Anti-Liquor Course In Schools

W. C. T. U. Speaker Says Promises Made Before Repeal Have Not Been Kept

Miss Ethel Hubler, Los Angeles prohibitionist editor and lecturer, branded repeal as a failure and told those who attended the Central W. C. T. U.'s meeting at the Second Methodist church Friday evening that "we should educate scientifically against drink in all public schools."

She charged repeal has failed to keep the promises made for it, adding the national budget remains unbalanced. Revenue from beer, Miss Hubler reported, has failed in five years to total what was predicted for one. Unemployment she said is as bad as ever and "saloons" now are more numerous than before prohibition.

Liquor Bill.

"Over four billions of dollars were spent for liquor last year," she declared. "That is an average of $150 per family in the United States." She estimated the number of saloons today at 400,000, whereas there were only 150,000 in the pre-prohibition days.

"The situation is wrose today than then because now over a million women and girls are working in places where liquor is sold," Miss Hubler said.

Rev. Gilbert T. Savery presided and introduced Miss Hubler. She is completing a six weeks speaking tour through the south and midwest that will take her to Denver and then to Los Angeles, where she edits and publishes the National Voice.

Kansas Republicans Ask Winrod's Defeat For U. S. Senate Seat

TOPEKA, Kas., July 23—(AP)—Many republican leaders joined today in demanding the defeat in the Aug. 2 primary of the Rev. Gerald B. Winrod, Wichita evangelist, lecturer and pamphleteer, in his bid for nomination for the U. S. senate seat held by George McGill, democrat.

John Hamilton, national chairman, yesterday warned Kansas republicans "if Mr. Winrod is nominated . . . our party in Kansas will be on the wrong side of a vital issue (of intolerance) and opposed to our party policy in other states."

Forty-one prominent republicans, including William Allen White, Emporia editor, recently issued a statement accusing Winrod of nazi sympathies and of utterances against Jews, Catholics and Protestant churches.

A few days later, nine Kansas ministers issued a statement attacking Winrod on the same charges of intolerance.

Hamilton asked Kansas to "consider the possible disastrous effects which his nomination would have upon the entire state and local republican tickets in November."

Winrod replied:

"We were informed three weeks ago that certain powerful financial interests were pressing Mr. Hamilton to make such a statement. Of course the myth regarding naziism and fascism built up by communist propagandists has been definitely exploded."

Benevolence, Mrs. John Porter and Mrs. James Tracy; foreign missions, Mrs. Edwin Axthelm and Mrs. C. J. Ovenden; temperance, Mrs. J. N. Weston and Mrs. Claude Hubbell, and auditing of accounts, Ralph C. Lawrence.

Plan Decatur Bridge Over Missouri River

OAKLAND, Neb., July 23—(AP)—Burt county supervisors said today representatives of a St. Louis banking firm will make a traffic survey in connection with a proposed Missouri river bridge at Decatur. Supervisors said they were assured if the survey is satisfactory, the bank will finance the bridge. Plans call for issuance of revenue bonds for about $385,000 to supplement a federal grant of 45 per cent of the total cost. Proponents assert traffic of 200 cars a day would pay for the bridge in 20 years.

M'COOK FINANCING PLAN IS ALTERED

McCOOK, Neb., July 23—(AP)—The McCook city council Friday night voted to reject a works progress administration grant of $62,640 for construction of a municipal auditorium and authorized Mayor Lawritson to make application for a public works administration grant for the building.

The WPA grant, made available several months ago, was rejected when it was decided too much of the money would have to be spent for common labor. PWA funds will allow more money for materials and skilled labor.

The city has voted $50,000 in bonds to finance its share of the proposed auditorium.

Will Is Contested

KEARNEY, Neb., July 23—(AP)—Caroline Turney, daughter of the late John H. Mosser, and several minor legal heirs, have appealed to the District court here from a County court ruling which admitted Mosser's will to probate.

The petitioners allege Mosser, at the time of executing the will disposing of his estate estimated at $15,000 was not "possessed of testamentary capacity, by reason of old age." Attorneys said several legal heirs were left only $1.

Bookie Bureau Is Dismantled

Cottage South Of Omaha Used For Sending Out News, Deserted

OMAHA, July 23—(AP)A tangled mass of wires, apparently cut with an axe, dangled today from a house on the outskirts of Omaha, believed by police to have been one of the points of dissemination for race track information to Omaha bookies. Assistant Police Chief Munch said he believed operators had wrecked the place—a cottage in Sarpy county a short distance south of Camp Brewster—before they left.

A network of wires had led from the highway to the house. Nearly all of the windows had been broken. Inside, investigators found 14 telephones, a pool table, pencils, pads and a safe. There was evidence, they said, a teletype was removed recently.

The place was one of at least two that Munch disclosed yesterday he had asked state aid in raiding. They are outside the jurisdiction of Omaha police. Officers continued yesterday raids on alleged bookies in Omaha.

Munch Is Wrathy.

Failure of state officers to appear brought wrathy comment from Munch last night, but at Lincoln, State Sheriff Flake said he had received no direct request for aid. Munch said he called the state sheriff's office Thursday and talked to Deputy George Lang, who said he would inform Flake.

"We have been waiting since 9 a. m. Thursday for someone from the state sheriff's office to show up," Munch said last night.

Informed of the situation, Flake said he had not talked with Munch, adding, "I have been out of the state and just got back to the office. I haven't received any request from the attorney general's office for aid."

Late yesterday Munch conferred here with Assistant Attorneys General Barlow Nye and Francis V. Robinson. He said he was promised co-operation but declined further comment.

Dr. Aubrey Diller Is On Indiana Faculty

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., July 23—Dr. Aubrey Diller, native of Diller, Neb., graduate of the University of Nebraska, and former teacher in the Stanton, Neb., high school, has been appointed assistant professor of Greek at Indiana university. Pres. Herman B. Wells in announcing the appointment stated that Dr. Diller had been recommended as "one of the outstanding men of the younger generation of classical scholars in the United States."

Graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1925, Diller received his A. M. degree from Nebraska in 1927 after having taught for a year in Stanton high school. For the past year he has been a member of the faculty of the University of Illinois and prior to that was an instructor at the University of Michigan and spent two years at the American academy in Greece.

Mother Kills 3 Children, Self

MENDON, Mass., July 23—(AP)—Seven-year-old Robert Miles died at Milford hospital today 12 hours after he was found in his home near the razor-slashed bodies of his mother and two sisters. Medical Examiner John V. Gallegher called the case "murder and suicide."

Police Chief Harold C. Barrows saaid Mrs. Anna Miles, 30, killed her two daughters, Beverly Jean, 4, and Dorothy, 5, slashed Robert and then took her own life. All died with their throats cut.

The tragedy reduced the family of five to one, the husband and father, Cecil, 32, a truck driver.

Dr. Galleger said Mrs. Miles had been "in a highly pervous condition."

Mrs. Gertrude DeWolf, 85, Of Bennet, Passes Away

(Special to The Star.)

BENNET, Neb., July 23—Mrs. Gertrude A. DeWolf, 85, died at the home of her son, Dr. W. W. DeWolf, Friday night. Besides her son, Mrs. DeWolf is survived by a daughter, Mabel, also of Bennet. The body is at Brokema's in Hickman and will be taken to Omaha for cremation.

Two Are Sentenced

FALLS CITY, Neb., July 23—(AP)—Paul Hedgecock and Cecil Eckley, Whitecloud, Kas.,, pleaded guilty Friday before District Judge Falloon to stripping an automobile belonging to Robert Mosher, St. Joseph, Mo., while it was stalled on a road near Rulo recently. Hedgecock was sentenced to one to two years in the penitentiary and Eckley to one to two years in the state reformatory. Sheriff Gates took the men to Lincoln.

Speed Hay Making

YORK, Neb., July 23—(AP)—Anxious to speed up hay making to avoid further grasshopper damage, Edward Arnold, son of a Cherry county rancher, flew here today with three passengers to obtain a special truck for the work. William Leggett, one of the passengers, drove the truck to the ranch.

German Day Plans

OMAHA, July 23—(AP)—Gov. R. L. Cochran will be an honor guest at the annual German day celebration sponsored Aug. 6-7 by the Federation of German-American societies of Omaha, officials said. The festivities commemorate the landing of the first organized group of Germans in this country in 1683.

18 Mourners At Insull Funeral

LONDON, July 23 — (AP) — Samuel Insull, who rose from poverty to rule and lose a $4,000,000,000 utility empire, was buried today in a simple, golden oak casket in the Putney Vale cemetery.

The last chapter in the fabulous life story of the magnate who died at the age of 78 of a heart attack in Paris just a week ago, was almost as modest as the first one.

Eighteen persons followed the plain coffin to the grave.

Not a single reference of a personal nature was made in the service. There was no mention of his humble origin, his power as a financier in the United States' middlewest or of his tragic flight and misfortune after his empire collapsed.

The most pretentious wreath was from the National Temperance hospital in London to which Insull had given $100,000 before the crash.

Girdler Called In Strike Probe

Steel Chief's Testimony To Be As Strong As Labor Leaders'

WASHINGTON, July 3—(AP)—Chairman La Follette (Prog-Wis) said today the senate civil liberties committee had subpoenaed Tom Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel Corp., in connection with its inquiry into the 1937 "little steel" strike.

T. F. Patton, Republic attorney, said that Girdler desired an opportunity to appear before the committee and that his testimony would be as "strong and picturesque" as that of labor leaders.

The committee was in recess until next Wednesday to permit attaches to study financial records of Hill & Knowlton, Cleveland public relations firm, concerning a survey of labor relations made for six steel companies.

La Follette said Girdler would not be summoned until after additional testimony about difficulties union organizers met in attempting to unionize "little steel."

Two Versions of Struggle.

The committee heard two versions yesterday of the struggle between Republic and the C. I. O. steel union in the 1937 strike.

Calling the firm a "cesspool" of industrial labor relations," Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, charged that Republic used "reprehensible ttactics" to hinder formation of unions.

Patton countered with the charge that union pickets had "assailed" the postoffice department and prevented for the first time in history the delivery of mail to an industrial plant. He said that nine C. I. O. members pleaded guilty to stopping mail trucks.

Swedish Crown Prince Sails for His Homeland

NEW YORK, July 23—(AP)—Smiling farewell to 1,000 admirers, Crown Prince Gustav Adolf of Sweden sailed for his homeland today on the Swedish-American liner Gripsholm, ending a 26-day visit to the United States.

With him went the Crown Princess Louise and his third son, Prince Bertil, a speed-loving young man made happy by the gift of an automobile from Henry Ford.

In a farewell radio address, the 55-year-old heir to Gustav V. praised the "community of interest and ideals" which he said was "the surest token of an everlasting friendship between the Swedish and the American people."

"We have in common those most vital interests of peace and of friendly intercourse between nations," he said. "We are united in a common belief in the ideals of law and order, of democracy and justice, of peace and good will among all nations of the world."

SENATOR BILBO IS GRANTED DIVORCE

POPLARVILLE, Miss., July 23 (INS)—Theo G. Bilbo, democratic United States senator from Missouri, held a divorce today from Mrs. Linda Gaddy Bilbo, whom he married here 34 years ago.

The senator charged cruelty and obtained the divorce yesterday after a $20,750 setlement was announced. Witnesses for Senator Bilbo included four old friends, one of whom testified that Mrs. Bilbo had carried a pistol on several occasions, and had been heard to make threats against her husband's life.

The rift in their marriage occurred, both Mr. and Mrs. Bilbo said, while Bilbo was governor of Mississippi from 1928 to 1932.

Returns To Ship

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., July 23—Captain Ralph Koch, who has been visiting here the past week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Koch, returned to the U. S. S. Seattle at New York Saturday. Captain Koch is on land duty at present at Brooklyn, with quarters on the Seattle, which is not in active service but is anchored in the navy yard and used as a receiving ship.

Seals Take A Walk

SALT LAKE CITY, July 23—(AP)—Two seals, landlubbers at heart, scaled a three-foot fence at Liberty park yesterday and went a-roamin'.

One went east more than a mile, along a well-traveled street, and the other went west for four hours.

Startled townspeople called park watchmen. Today the park fence was six feet high.

Colorado Demos Back Sen. Adams In Primary Race

Court Bill Foe To Enter September Balloting Unopposed

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 23— (AP) —Designated by the Colorado democratic assembly, United States Senator Alva B. Adams, opponent of President Roosevelt's Supreme court and reorganization bills, will enter the September primary election unopposed for renomination.

In a heated contest fought on the issues of administration support, Adams gained the designation over State Court Justice Benjamin C. Hilliard yesterday, receiving 1,286 votes. Hilliard mustered 218, 84 short of the total required to give him a place on the ballot in the primaries September 13.

Adams Defended.

Placing Adams in nomination before the assembly, Philip Hornbein, Denver party leader, declared Adams "has stood for every measure of the Roosevelt administration that had anything to do with attaining the humanitarian objectives of our great president."

Rushing to the attack, O. Otto Moore, old age pension advocate and National Annuity league leader, asserted any move to keep Hilliard out of the primary would "be treading on mighty thin ice."

Adams' backers, in defending the senator's opposition to certain Roosevelt proposals, pointed to Hilliard's vote as a congressman against entrance into the World war.

President Roosevelt failed to mention either Adams or Hilliard when he spoke briefly at Pueblo recently on his western trip. Both quarters claimed tacit white house support.

Plans Suit On Water Rights

North Platte Lawyer To Attack Two Hydro-electric Districts

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., July 23—(AP)—E. H. Evans, attorney for the Lincoln and Keith Counties Water Users' association, said the organization will probably file suit to determine the rights of riparian owners of river water.

"At present," Evans said, "state statutes do not define their rights, other than by previous reference." Evans said formation of the association is an outgrowth of plans of the Platte Valley and Tri-County power and irrigation districts to divert water through the Platte valley district system. Storage waters from the Tri-County's Kingsley dam, it was pointed out, will be diverted at the Platte Valley's Keystone diversion dam, carried through the system to generate power and released east of North Platte for down-river irrigation users.

This, Evans asserted, will result in a serious shortage of water to riparian owners between Keystone and North Platte.

Evans said the association will also question the legality of alleged Platte Valley and Tri-County diversion of water from the North to the South Platte river watershed. He said he believes such diversion is illegal because it deprives riparian owners.

'JIM' FARLEY HIKES TO ANCHORAGE, ALASKA

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, July 23—(AP)—Postmaster General Farley and his party trudged into Anchorage singing lustily—and with feeling—"I've Been Working on the Railroad."

The rubber-tired, flange-wheeled gascar carrying Farley had two flat tires yesterday. There were no spares, so the trip was continued on the flats. Then a wheel came off, derailing the car.

Farley and his companions hiked the last mile and a half into town.

High Court Approves $10,000 Settlement In Omaha Injury Case

Settlement for $10,000 of an Omaha automobile accident case which brought a $24,941 jury verdict—one of the largest of its kind in Nebraska courts in recent years—was approved Saturday by the Supreme court.

William Stanley, Omaha printer, won the judgment in the lower court against Cart Petersen, dairyman, for injuries he suffered when struck by Petersen's car in a safety zone, April 25, 1937. The accident occurred at Twenty-fourth and Dodge streets. Petersen's appeal was pending before the Supreme court when the settlement was reached.

Beverage Makers Warned Against Improper Labels

Officials of the state food and drug bureau warned beverage manufacturers Saturday to look to their labels.

R. B. Willard, state chemist, said Omaha beverage makers have been given until Aug. 10 to see that their paper labels comply with state requirements and until the first of the year to make cap labels conform. Markings on several beverages now being sold fail to indicate that the flavor and color is artificial.

FOUND SLAIN

Julius Berg (above), state senator from the Bronx district of New York City, was found slain in his office shortly after an indictment had been voted against him for obtaining money by trickery and misrepresentation.

Claim Counties Paid Too Much

Buffalo Board Members Want Refund Insanity Care Charge

KEARNEY, Neb., July 23—(AP)—Finance Committeemen Gene Loomis and Lynn Blakeley of the county board charged in a joint statement issued today that the state collected illegally for more than 24 years, payments from counties for care of insane patients in state institutions.

They said they will urge Buffalo county supervisors to deduct all such "illegal" payments in providing the $16,241.60 payment due from Buffalo county to the state under new legislation, for such patients. The amount illegally collected and not refunded will approximate $5,000, they said, cutting the 1938 amount due to about $11,000.

Supervisors Loomis and Blakeley said they base their recommendation on the fact that a statute providing for annual payments by counties to the state was repealed in 1913, although through error it remained in the statute books long after that time.

One refund of $1,275 was granted by the legislature to Buffalo county, the refund period dating back to 1935, they said, but it should have been for more than 24 years.

The statement also contends courts of Nebraska have held levies such as the new "state" insane levy to be in reality "county" levies, and that "it follows that if the levy x x x raises the county levy beyond county levy limits x x x it must still be inoperative."

400 Evacuate Homes In West Texas Flood; Two Persons Drowned

SAN SABA, Tex., July 23—(AP)—The flooded San Saba river threatened more destruction in this west Texas region today after causing two drownings, damage estimated at $300,000 upward and driving 400 to 500 persons from their homes. Several persons were missing.

From Voca, where the stage was 45 feet, additional water was reported sweeping toward San Saba.

Fed by several days of rains, the river swelled yesterday from its normal 3-foot level to 44 feet here, 2 feet above its previous record. North side residential areas were flooded.

Elsewhere it covered a tremendous area of west Texas sheep country, drove hundreds of lowland dwellers from homes and brought death by drowning to Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Hensley near Menard.

Penitentiary Term

WAHOO, Neb., July 23—(AP)—District Judge Landis sentenced Jesse James Broadwater, 26, Cleveland, Okla., to seven years and nine months in the penitentiary. Broadwater pleaded guilty to armed robbery of 25 men in a Northwestern railroad freight car between Wahoo and Ceresco Tuesday night. He was arrested in Lincoln the following day.

Heads Legion Post

FRANKLIN, Neb., July 23—(AP)—Dr. Harold Neville of Hildreth is commander-elect of the Franklin post of the American Legion. The post plans to organize a junior legion drum and bugle corps. Clarence Prusia will be instructor.

NEC Denies Sen. George's Backer Was Kicked Out

Senate Committee May Send Investigator To Georgia

WASHINGTON, July 23—(AP)—Senator George (D-Ga) and Lowell Mellett, executive director of the national emergency council, differed today over whether the Georgia director for NEC resigned or was fired.

George complained to the senate campaign expenditures committee yesterday that "one federal official" was removed "for the sole reason that he proposes to vote for me."

Mellett commented: "The senator's being a little ridiculous."

Out of the complaint grew the possibility that the senate committee would send an investigator to Georgia.

Cocke Takes Pay Job.

George named no one in his complaint to the committee, but said at Atlanta that he referred to the appointment of Dr. C. H. Foreman of the Washington public works administration staff, to succeed Erle Cocke as Georgia NEC director.

Later it was disclosed that Senator Russell (D-Ga) also had protested the end of Cocke's service with the organization, but on what grounds an NEC official would not say.

He declared that Russell's telegram was one of many received over the incident and that it could not be made public here.

Mellett said Cocke resigned the payless directorship. He praised the Georgian as "a very good director," and said he had no idea how Cocke intended to vote.

Cocke also had been a regional director o fthe Reconstruction Finance Corp., Mellett said, but resigned to become vice president of an Atlanta bank. The RFC post carried a salary.

Radke Makes Charges On Highway Routing

BLAIR, Neb., July 23—(AP)—Franz C. Radke, democratic candidate for governor, charged last night Gov. R. L. Cochran was responsible for designation of state highway 16 as the route for highway 30 alternate.

Speaking before 150 persons at a meeting of the "Better Conditions league," which seeks higher WPA wages for Washington county, Radke asserted "sixteen is a fine route, but why should it have 30-A superimposed on its markers to the detriment of those who have built up property rights on No. 30?"

Radke also declared faulty budgeting resulted in a state general fund overdraft.

IRON OF HATE, OR IS IT IRONY?

SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON of California will be seventy-two years of age next September. His birth was also the birth of what Historian Claude Bower called the tragic era. He was born less than a year after the close of the Civil war, and in the events which followed it would seem to be an appropriate beginning for a stormy life. That is the life which Johnson has lived—storm-filled, one battle after another—shot through with strong likes and dislikes.

* * *

LEST it be forgot his first work was in the role of a shorthand reporter. He studied law in the office of his father, was admitted to the bar in California in 1888, moved from Sacramento to San Francisco in 1902 to become a member of the staff of the prosecuting attorney in cases embracing charges of boodle involving leading city officials and almost all the public utilities corporations in San Francisco. Johnson was selected to take the place of Francis J. Heney, after the latter had been shot down in court while prosecuting Abe Ruef for bribery. He convicted Ruef. It carried him to the office of governor of California in 1911, an office to which he was re-elected and from which he resigned to become a United States senator and to serve continuously from them until now.

THE remainder of his career is better known. He was a founder of the progressive party in 1912 and its nominee for the vice presidency the same year. He was a candidate for the presidency in 1924 against Calvin Coolidge. All of his life his dominant ambition to sit in the White House has been frustrated, and the failure of his hopes at times seemed to leave a canker that nullified his great ability. Senator Johnson is a good hater. There are very few in public life, who can hate so impressively and so effectively. And now it is reported that having bolted Herbert Hoover in 1932 to support President Roosevelt, he is preparing to bolt Roosevelt to support someone not clearly projected at this time.

BOB ALLEN, of Washington Merry-Go-Round, says Johnson's soul is filled with hate and that he is bent on carnage. By inference he indicates Senator McAdoo, up for re-election with the president's blessing, is in line to feel Johnson's ire. If that be true, there isn't much reason to believe McAdoo is troubled. Democratic registrations in California have increased until they now are at the peak for all time, and it is doubtful if there is a state in the Union, even Georgia, where the personal popularity of the president is greater. Always an effective vote-getter when his own fate was at stake, Johnson has been little help in attempting to battle for others.

OF FAR less consequence is his reported defection in influencing the voters than the bearing it may have when congress re-convenes. He fought the president on the court issue. His part was far less spectacular than that of Senator Wheeler's but when it came to the actual results he had as much to do with defeating the court bill as any member of the senate. Johnson is a man of great resourcefulness. He has years of experience back of him and he knows how to organize and to conduct a successful fight in congress. He may take after the administration on the stump but if the past furnishes any evidence of what to expect, he will not accomplish half the results he could in congress. Even in his own state in attempting to defeat Senator Shortridge, he took a sound thumping.

JOHNSON may have ambitions yet, with the republican party to select a standard-bearer in 1940 but in view of his age it would seem he had relinquished those. What appears more likely is that he wants to have his say in 1940, along with Senator Borah and some others, in the selection of a standard-bearer and in the drafting of a platform. He himself comes up for re-election a year later and the present demoralized position of the republican party could not add to his peace of mind.

* * *

THE little group with which he has been associated virtually all of his life is divded hopelessly. Johnson, Borah, and Wheeler are on one side, and the others are supporting the president. And so he nears the close of his career, a career that has been distinguished more by its rebellion than anything else, as rebellious as when he was a young man. If he fails to achieve any marked success in his last revolt, he will be more embittered than ever.

To Pay For Mexican Lands

SECRETARY HULL'S note to the Mexican government, insisting upon payment for farm lands seized belonging to American citizens, merely reflects the consistent position taken during three different Mexican administrations.

It is said at this time that approximately a million acres located in Mexico, title to which rested in American hands, is at stake. But that is a small amount compared to the combined confiscation which has taken place since the days of Carranzo, and, since the succeeding established Mexican government announced its intention of returning vast tracts to be divided among Mexican peons and their families.

Nebraska Wheat Loans

IT IS to be hoped that the effort to have the wheat loan rules so amended as to permit loans on grain of lesser weight than is now allowed will be successful, otherwise a great hardship will be inflicted on a large number of farmers in this state. In some of the counties it is reported three-fourths of the wheat is below the test weight.

It is highly important that as much wheat be kept on the farms as possible, and this will be out of the question if the owners are not permitted to borrow. With grain at present prices farmers cannot afford to sell, but many will be compelled to do so in the absence of loans and the market will be still farther depressed.

The corn loans did just what they were expected to do. They made it possible for the farmer to hold his corn until it could be sold at a profit and that is what loans on wheat will do. Next year it is expected to greatly reduce the acreage seeded to this grain and thus will be inaugurated the ever normal granary, which is a thing greatly to be desired. The wheat program is an excellent one, but it will not work out in this state unless loans are permitted on grain of lesser weight.

State Equalization Board Ends Hearings

Ruling On Four Counties Which Cut Valuations To Be Made Monday

The state board of equalization met in the governor's office marking the final meeting of the board before fixing the state's valuation for tax purposes under the 1938 levies. The law requires the board to meet on July 18, and for five days following at which complaints can be made.

$700,000 LEFT BY FIST FIGHT VICTIM

WASHINGTON, July 23—(AP)—Marquis J. Lawrence, who was killed in a fist fight in Arizona, left an estate of approximately $700,000 in a will filed in District court here.

Lawrence, a former resident of Washington, was beaten to death by Ernesto Lira on May 11. Lira was convicted of second degree murder and is seeking a new trial.

Mary McCormic Through Singing For Sandwiches After Dakota Incident

PIERRE, S. D., July 23—(AP)—Mary McCormic, soprano, is through "singing for ham sandwiches," she said emphatically here after someone — it wasn't quite clear who—tricked her into an unwilling performance in South Dakota's capital city.

Here for a Kiwanis club sponsored concert, she balked at financial arrangements and flatly refused to sing. Shortly afterward, it was learned today, a bell boy at her hotel handed her a legal-appearing paper. Unless she went on with with the concert, it read, her property would be attached.

Miss McCormic's expensive automobile stood out front. She took a look at it. Then went to the concert hall and sang.

Today both Kiwanis club members and county officials said they knew nothing about any such document having been given to the singer.

Miss McCormic said her Pierre performance was worth "just about" $12. The Kiwanis club replied it paid her more than $30.

State Fair Racing Meet Starts Aug. 22

Pari-Mutuel Horses To Run Until Sept. 10; KFAB To Stage Barn Dance

Perry Reed, secretary of the Nebraska state fair board, announced Saturday that the board has made a contract with radio station KFAB to conduct an old-time barn dance in the pavilion at the state fair on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of the fair. The pavilion will be used for the annual horse show Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights.

For the "barn dance" Reed said, the pavilion will be especially decorated in keeping with barn suggestion, and music and entertainment will be fitting also for the occasion.

Running horse racing will start on August 22, and continue throughout the fair and until September 10. Reed said the admission to the grounds, will be 25 cents and into the amphitheater also 25 cents during the exclusive racing period, except that during the fair the admission to both will be the regular state fair charge.

He said that in order to attract the better racing animals it is necessary to operate the racing period longer than the regular state fair dates.

EUGENE BUCHER, 27, FAINTS AT WORK

Eugene Bucher, 27, 601 North Twenty-fourth street, fainted while at work at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning and was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital for treatment. He was later released and taken to his home. Bucher, who is employed by E. M. Bair, 1210 P street, fell to the floor from his chair Saturday morning. He had not been feeling well for some time, according to officers who answered the call. Bucher was attended by Dr. T. F. McCarthy.

COMMON PUBLIC FALLACIES ABOUT MAD DOGS EXPOSED

(Once a week in this column will be printed a discussion of a medical superstition. Readers are invited to contribute.)

Superstitions about mad dogs—The popular idea is that mad dogs always froth at the mouth and are always very excited. It is only in the last stages of the disease, when the dog is practically completely paralyzed that any frothing occurs—quantities of stringy, ropy saliva hang down from the mouth. This stage is not dangerous because the dog is too paralyzed to bite.

In the early stages before paralysis has set in, the animal is able to bite, and that is the dangerous period. At that stage there may be little or no excitement or agitation. The dog may display no signs of abnormality whatever. In the later stages, the paralysis is so great that the dog can hardly stand, let alone go rushing about or barking.

The old belief in mad-stones as a cure for a mad dog bite still persists. Doctors who are known to be treating patients bitten by a mad dog are deluged with offers of the use of a mad-stone. The mad-stone usually has been in the family for some time and has a good record of cures.

Mad-stones technically were stones found in the stomach of a deer or a cow, but preferably a wild animal. In a Texas paper not long ago there was the advertisement of a mad-stone kept at the local drug store, and which would "extract the poison of mad dogs, snakes, tarantulas and other venomous reptiles and insects."

And in a North Carolina newspaper there appeared the account of a farmer who came to town to be treated by the mad-stone in the possession of a certain doctor. "The stone stuck to him for thirty minutes." This proved it really was working.

Quite as ancient is the idea that the hair of the dog that bit you applied to the wound will cure it.

There also is an unfortunate belief that hydrophobia can be prevented if the dog which has bitten a person is killed immediately. What should be done is to keep the dog under observation in confinement to see whether the disease develops. To kill the animal in the early stages may be to fix things so that final proof of whether it was rabid or not never can be found. Later on definite changes in the brain can be seen under the microscope, in the presence of the so-called Negri bodies.

QUESTION.

"Please tell what makes white blood cells go down in number. Also what is the maintaining count? Will a low count interfere with the red blood cells count?"

ANSWER.

The reduction in the number of white cells usually is due to some drug, such as amidopyrine or inhalation of benzol fumes. When the white cells go down, the red cells usually go down also because the drug affects the entire bone marrow. The normal white cell count is about 5,000.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

A Search In Vain

There is no search so wholly vain
That there is naught from it to gain.
—Old Mother Nature.

Old Mother Nature says something there. You may not find the thing you are looking for. To this extent your search may be unsuccessful. But you are sure to find other things to increase knowledge.

Tommy, Sue and Sammy found it so when they went searching for some sign of Crippy, the three-legged Coon, who for a week had failed to visit Aunt Sally's Woodhouse Night Club. This had caused Aunt Sally no little concern, and so Tommy had promised to look for signs outside, although he had no expectation of finding any.

First, they visited the garden. They found certain proof that Peter Rabbit had been there, and that Johnny Chuck had been there, and that Jimmy Skunk had been there, but there was no evidence that a Coon had been there.

Then they went to the cornfield. It was too early for corn to be in the milk, and that is when Coons love it, but Tommy thought that Crippy might have visited it, to see how it was coming along. However, nowhere could they find the footprint of a Coon.

"We'll go over to the Green Forest next," said Tommy.

"Why not the Old Pasture?" Sammy wanted to know.

"Because Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy are living there, and I don't believe that Coon would like the neighborhood. Coons like water and we are pretty sure to find signs of one along the Laughing Brook, over in the Green Forest," replied Tommy.

When they reached the Laughing Brook they searched carefully along both banks, especially around quiet little pools. It was in the mud on the edge of one of these that Sue found footprints and called to Tommy to come and see if they might be a Coon's.

Tommy gave them hardly more than a glance. "Billy Mink's," said he. "Billy has been here, fishing, and not so long ago. A Coon's tracks are a lot bigger than those, Sue, and different.

A few minutes later Tommy called the others to a little sandy bar over which he was bending. "Coon," was his cryptic statement as he pointed to some faint tracks.

"Do you suppose that they are Crippy's?" cried Sue excitedly.

"Tell me what you think," replied Tommy.

Sue and Sammy studied the faint footprints, but could read nothing in them. In fact, it is doubtful if they would have noticed those tracks at all had they happened along there, instead of Tommy.

"If you say those are Coon tracks, of course they are, but I

Then they went to the cornfield

don't believe even you can tell whether or not they were made by Aunt Sally's Crippy," said Sammy.

"You have a lot to learn before you will become a good tracer, Sammy," replied Tommy. "Crippy didn't make those tracks."

"How do you know she didn't?" demanded Sammy.

"Which leg had she lost?" asked Tommy.

"I know! It was the left front one" cried Sue.

"All right. Now, look at those tracks and see if you can find a print of a left front foot," replied Tommy.

Sue and Sammy squatted down, the better to study those footprints. "I think that is a left print," said Sammy somewhat doubtfully, as he pointed to one track.

Tommy nodded in agreement. "Sure, that's a left footprint," he agreed. "And right there are two prints, side by side, a left and a right. So, of course, these tracks were not made by Crippy, but by some other Coon, perhaps one of Crippy's children."

In two other places along the Laughing Brook tracks made by a Coon were found, but in each case the animal had left the prints of four feet. Crippy had not been fishing or hunting Frogs along the Laughing Brook. All that afternoon they looked and looked, but the search was in vain in so far as Crippy was concerned. But they had a good time, and Sue and Sammy learned much of wood lore.

JUST FOLKS

SWEET SIXTEEN.

Of all the ages woman knows
From life's beginning to the close,
There's none so lovely or serene
As that of radiant "sweet sixteen."

Her childhood is an awkward stage
That leads her to the perfect age
When still unspoiled her charms are seen
In that entrancing "sweet sixteen."

Then all untouched by grief or care,
Her smile is delicately fair.
Her tresses wear their brightest sheen
Throughout that glorious "sweet sixteen."

Then lips are merry and the eyes
Still bright with laughter and surprise.
Hates and sophistications mean
Have yet to sully "sweet sixteen."

Of all the ages woman gains,
The loveliest "sweet sixteen" remains.
The perfect age of many here.
Too bad it only lasts a year!

CALLING ALL DOGS!

By Albert Payson Terhune

I have warned you dog-owners of so called "Crusades" to banish all dogs from cities, and of proposed legislation to that effect. These activities seem to be increasing. For instance:

In New York and in one or two other citiles, many owners of big apartment houses have decreed that no applicant owning a dog shall be allowed to rent an apartment. In still more houses of the sort, stringent rules have been enacted and enforced; barring all dogs from the use of the rooms as exercise grounds.

Newspapers have taken connizance of these regulations and devoted much space to them; sometimes not only on the news pages, but editorially as well. In short, the anti-dog campaign is on, with every-increasing vigor. If the crusaders have their way, no dog will be permitted to set foot in any large city.

These repeated warnings of mine are not a sample of "calamity howling," but a tip of what is afoot for the banishment of your dog from cities.

As I said before, I don't believe the crusades can succeed in their purpose. But it is up to us, meantime, to keep our dogs from being public nuisances; thus giving the crusaders more and more arguments for insisting on such banishment.

LOVE ON THE RANGE

BY NELSON C. NYE

The Story So Far.

Under the name of Abe Streeter, quick-fire Ankrom takes a job on the troubled Rafter T ranch to help lovely Lee Trone. Colonel Struthers and his daughter Betty come to visit, and Ankrom recognizes Struthers as an imposter, Kelton Drean. Drean is shot and Betty slips Ankrom her gun, saying she did it. Ratchford, the burly sheriff, holds them all for questioning, including Claydell, a neighboring rancher. Accidentally, Ankrom drops Betty's gun on the floor.

Chapter 14.
QUESTIONS.

In plain sight, blue and cold and grim it lay. The surprise had frozen them all to a rigid tenseness. Ankrom thought the pounding of his heart must surely shake him.

"Well!" the sheriff drawled at last. "Well! What parlor trick is this, Streeter?"

Ankrom grinned with a mirthlessness that showed the whiteness of his teeth. "Shucks," he said, "I feel downright ashamed to call that weaklin' mine."

"I shouldn't wonder." With heavy irony Ratchford stooped to pick the weapon up. Yet even as his fingers spread to grip it, Ankrom covered the pistol with his foot.

Grimly Ratchford straightened. The head on his thick neck came forward until his heavy features were within ten inches of Ankrom's. Unblinking, the smoking eyes stared balefully.

His words were low, spaced wide apart: "Where did you get that gun?"

Across Ankrom's mind came the vision of the girl from Peso Pinto rising from the crumpled form of Kelton Drean with one hand holding papers, a pistol in the other. This pistol!

He eyed it warily. Had the spurious Struthers' life been snuffed with this?

He let his glance rest upon the sheriff's. "By your tone," he told him, "a man would figure it was a crime to own more'n one gun in Texas?"

"Never mind airin' your opinions. I want to know where you got this gun."

"I don't know that it's any of your business, Ratchford."

"I'm making it my business."

"Boot Hill is filled with felas that had that habit—"

"Damn you!" Ratchford swore. "You answer my question an' answer it quick or I'll slap the bracelets on you an' take you in for this killin'!"

"What evidence you got that I downed Struthers? Law says you got to have evidence before you can arrest a man for a thing like this."

"Yeah? Well, that law don't cover you. The laws ain't made for driftin' saddle tramps that go round stirrin' up trouble. Talk, fella—talk, or I'll take you in!"

Ankrom stood there, his eyes like tempered steel, the lean cheeks drawn taut. Trouble, he told himself, was like his shadow. He could not escape it—wherever he turned his eyes, there lay trouble waiting. To move amid scenes of turmoil seemed to be his portion. There was no escape . . . save death.

Very well, then; he was through trying. He would serve these trouble-bringers what they asked for. He would give them all they wanted from here on out; he would hurl it in their teeth.

As the sheriff's voice stopped Ankrom's right hand shrank into a hard fist. He took a forward stride as the shriff stepped back a pace and stood. His eyes held Ratchford like a grip; they were palely blue like ice, they were baffling, mocking, hateful. "What was it you wanted, Ratchford?"

"Who Hired You?"

Caution clouded the sheriff's glance. "I want to know where that gun came from."

"From the waistband of my trousers."

"Where'd you get it?"

As Ankrom was about to make answer, from the tail of his eye he caught a warning gesture. Just a tiny movement of a hand it was; a girl's hand—Lee's! Then she was not completely indifferent to him; the thought crossed his mind like light. Evidently she realized as did he himself, that Ratchford was out to find a goat and meant to find one before he left this room.

But Lee's cautioning gesture no longer held the force it might have held this morning. Stooping swiftly he came up with the gun his foot had covered; came up so suddenly the sheriff had no time to guess his purpose before the pistol's muzzle held him in grim focus as Ankrom backed to the wall beside the outer door.

"It didn't come from no dead man's hand, if that's what you're insinuatin'," Ankrom drawled. "If you're aimin' to find a goat for this night's work, Ratchford, you better pick on someone else."

"Any man can talk behind a gun," the sheriff sneered.

With a blur the pistol left Ankrom's hand and no one saw where he had sheathed it. White teeth gleamed coldly behind his parted lips. His attitude was a challenge to big Tom Ratchford, yet Ratchford did not move.

Ankrom said, "What caliber gun did the colonel use, Miss Struthers?"

"Why . . . a thirty-two, I believe."

"This pistol I just picked up was a thirty-two. It came off the ground near Struthers' body. One shell has been exploded. Do you know, Ratchford, what caliber slug it was that killed the colonel?"

"A forty-five," the sheriff's voice came back. "I cut it out." A moment's pause, and then: "Like the gun I took out of your hand a while ago."

"Did you?" Ankrom said.

The sheriff shrugged. His lids concealed the expression in his eyes. "All right then," he said, "like the forty-five you gave up at my request a while ago—if it makes you feel any better to have put it that way."

"It does. No man ever took a gun away from me yet, Ratchford—"

"Hard hombre, eh? I've seen your type of drifter before—the kind that hires out its guns to the highest bidder. Who hired you to gun the colonel?"

"I didn't gun him. I told you that before. Now let me ask you one: How'd you know the slug that downed him was a forty-five? Mightn't it have been a forty-four?"

"Where Were You?"

"Listen," Ratchford said testily. "I've fooled around guns long enough to recognize whether a chunk of lead was thrown from a forty-four or forty-five, no matter how badly it happens to be battered. There's a diff'rence in the weight. Besides, this slug was pretty smooth. It was like the ones your gun—the one you give me—shoots."

"That doesn't mean anything," Ankrom said. "You've got a forty-five yourself. It's slung in that shoulder holster under your coat. Mr. Trone may be packin' one too, for all I know. Claydell, here, produced a thirty-eight at your insistence, but he may likewise have a forty-five cached about him some place. I don't see any guns on these two cowboys, but if I was to judge them by the rest of you I'd say they were each packin' a forty-five, at least. For a country that's shucked its irons—"

"Never mind the sarcasm," Ratchford broke in roughly. He turned toward the two girls: "Miss Struthers, where were you when your ol' man was shot?"

The unexpectedness of the question brought a startled breath from Lee Trone. Her eyes flicked wide and darkened. Instinctively they sought Ankrom's. He gave her a reassuring quirk of the lips and turned his glance on Betty.

The sheriff's procedure elicited no sign of dismay from her. She had her wits about her every minute of the time, Ankrom reflected sardonically. "A girl that has all the answers," he summed her up.

When she spoke her voice held that amount of huskiness genuine grief for her father's death might have caused.

"I — I — let me see," a white hand went to her forehead, rumpling the golden curls; a tiny pucker grew between her thoughtful eyes. "I had just stepped out the door there. Father had asked me to meet him out beneath that pepper tree; he said he had something private which he wished to talk to me about . . ." She bit her lip; her thoughts seemed far away. "I'm trying to recollect—it seems to me I had just stepped out the door and crossed the veranda. I was leaning against one of those funny posts—"

"Come, come Miss Struthers," the sheriff exclaimed impatiently. I asked you where you were when you heard the shots. I'm not interested in the history of your movements from the time you finished supper."

Upon the big sheriff the girl from Peso Pinto turned wide blue eyes in which there shone the hurt expression of a child who has been unjustly reproved. "But Mr. Ratchford, that is what I am trying to tell you. I had stepped out on the veranda when I heard two sharp reports—"

"Then you did not see the gun-flashes?" she sheriff growled. "You couldn't say from which direction the reports came?"

The girl shook her head. "I'm afraid not. I was looking—"

"Yeah." Ratchford cut her off. He swung round upon Lee Trone: "Lee," his eyes were on hers probingly, "what weer you doing under the pepper tree when Colonel Struthers got shot?"

FALLS CITY FARMER SERIOUSLY BURNED

FALLS CITY, Neb., July 23—(AP)—Emil Gerlt, Falls City farmer, is in a serious condition with second and third degree burns on the left leg from hip to ankle, suffered yesterday when flaming gasoline sprayed on him from a tractor cylinder. He had taken a spark plug from the engine and the gasoline sprayed on him as he cranked the tractor to get rid of surplus gas, he said. Physicians said he probably will recover.

Both Legs Broken

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., July 23—(AP)—Mrs. Irene Chenoueth of Salina, Kas., a hitch hiker, suffered fractures of both legs in an automobile collision near Sutherland yesterday. Authorities said a Watson Brothers truck, driven by Fred Castan of Omaha, struck a Denver-Chicago truck from the rear as it stopped at a railroad crossing. Mrs. Chenoueth was an occupant of the Watson truck. Drivers of the trucks were not injured.

Crete Man Seeks To Intervene Gulf Case

Conrad Asks Liquidation Of Distributing Firm's Company No. 2

Alex A. Conrad of Crete has filed a petition of intervention in the suit filed by William J. Arth against Gulf Distributors, Inc., and Robert R. Pierce in District court.

He asks that the court declare Gulf Distributors, Inc., No. 2, of which he owns 22 shares, a part of the other company. He asks, too, that the business be wound up and liquidated and a receiver appointed.

The first company was organized June 6, 1936, Conrad declared, and on Jan. 29, 1937, Pierce and his partners organized No. 2 for the same purpose, purchasing oil and gas royalties. The companies had the same officers. The first company had a capital stock of $25,000, Conrad declared.

His petition claimed, also, that the two were organized under the $25,000 capital stock to circumvent laws which require corporations having capital stock of over $25,000 to become subject to blue sky laws.

Quit In Disgust

NEW YORK, July 23—(AP)—Police made short work of a sit-down strike of 26 persons, including 12 women, at a Bronx home relief office last night.

They turned off the lights, closed the windows and barred the doors to sympathizers bearing food and blankets.

The strikers, sweltering in a room without fresh air, light or food, gave up in disgust and left the building.

Wife Sues For $11,543 She Says Husband Lost In Gambling

Mrs. Grace Anderson of Hiawatha, Kas., has filed suit in District court against the Eppley Hotels Co., "Mackey" McGowan and J. T. Morrisey, seeking to recover $11,543.56 and interest. She claims that the money was lost by her husband, James L. Anderson, in gambling at the Lincoln hotel between Jan. 1, 1936 and July 31, 1937, when he was a resident of the Capital hotel.

Chicago Wheat Prices Decline

CHICAGO, July 23—(AP)—A dip of almost a cent a bushel in wheat prices today put the market back where it was at the end of May, with quotations only a fraction above the lowest level in five years.

The market was dull and hedging sales caused the decline in the absence of buying support.

Wheat closed ¾ to 1 cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, September 69⅝-½c, December 71¼-⅜c; corn was ¾ to 1⅛c down, September 58⅛-¼c, December 57-57⅛c. Oats lost ⅝c.

In a narrow trading market virtually neglected by outside speculating interests, wheat prices slipped lower today and flirted with season's bottom levels which in some cases were the lowest in five years.

Prices were only fractionally above the 1938 lows which were established at the end of May.

Hedging pressure was permitted to dominate the market in the absence of buying support. A press survey indicated a wheat crop in western Canada in excess of 300,000,000 bushels, the largest in six years, was in prospect despite moisture shortage and the presence of rust and insects.

The Liverpool market for the seventh consecutive day closed higher than due, being ¼ off to ½c up, and while this was interpreted by some as a sign of further possible export business, it was largely ignored.

Country movement has shown a falling off of winter wheat markets, but the spring wheat movement was expected to increase sharply within a week or ten days. Possibility of more government flour buying which would mean the removal of hedges by millers was stressed.

Wheat price declines amounted to almost a cent at one stage when September fell to 69½c and December to 71½c.

Corn and rye declined with wheat but the oats and provisions markets were steady. Good United Kingdom interest in American corn was reported, but only scatteretd export sales could be confirmed.

Around mid-session wheat was ½-¾c lower compared with yesterday's finish, September 69⅝c, December 71⅝c, and corn was ⅜-¾c down, September 58⅝c, December 57⅜c.

NEW YORK BOND REVIEW

NEW YORK, July 23—(AP)—A fresh buying move hit the bond market in the final hour of today's brief session, giving the entire list new vigor and sending many secondary rail liens to the best levels since last fall.

Conspicuous on the late drive, which coincided with a strong upturn in the share market, were several issues of Southern Pacific bonds, including the 4s of 1950; Baltimore & Ohio 5s of 7996 and the convertible 4½s, and Delaware & Hudson refunding 4s.

Bonds of moving picture companies, depressed a day or so ago made a sharp recovery. Included were R. K. O. 6s and Warner Bros 6s. Paramount 3¼s were a bit backward.

The bond market was still pointed upstream today but the strong summer recovery drive tapered off further as dealings shrank at the week-end.

Outstanding were additional gains in many railroad issues, the spearhead of the upswing. With carloadings above 600,000 last week, rail students were hopeful the carriers would begin to make up for the losses suffered in the first half of this year.

Corporate bonds on the average have recouped most of the spring losses, but many secondary loans remaned well under levels quoted a year ago.

Up fractions to about a point at one time were Armour of Delaware 4s, Baltimore & Ohio convertible 4½s, Santa Fe general 4s, Illinois Central 4¾s, International Paper 5s, Missouri Pacific 5s, Southern Railway 4s and Shell Union 3½s.

Bush Terminal Building 5s jumped 3 on a small turnover.

More squabbling between Japan and Russia naimated the markets for Japanese issues. While Japan 5½s rallied to regain some of the previous loss, sharp declines were recorded in Shinyetsu Electric 6½s and Taiwan Electric Power 5½s.

U. S. Treasury issues held in a narrow course.

GRAIN NOTES

CHICAGO, July 23—(AP)—Harvey S. Williams of Harris, Upham & Co., says: "The general character of the news justifies a friendly attitude toward the wheat market, but there is still no indication of any broadening of the outside interest necessary to advance prices."

Uhlmann Grain Co. makes the statement: "All the wheat price declines we have had the last six weeks or so were caused chiefly by the heavy movement of winter wheat, which was way in excess of what miller and exporters needed. There will be a similar situation shortly when the spring wheat movement starts in volume."

The Modern Miller reports: "Weather conditions generally favor completion of harvesting of winter wheat, and threshing is well along. Dry weather has prevailed in spring wheat areas both sides of the international line, with deterioration reported in parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan."

TEXANS SWARM TO VOTING PLACES

without opposition four years ago; Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, proponent of low utility rates, and Tom Hunter, Wichita Falls oil man and three-time candidate who never has polled less than 200,000 votes.

O'Daniel pecked away at the "professional politicians" in his closing speech last night and asserted he favored the working man. McGraw said he hoped Texas would declare an end "to petty quarreling and sordid politics." Thompson renewed his pledge to industrialize the state, and Hunter said he was eager to slice $15,000,000 from the state budget.

Dozen Aspirants

Eight others, including Karl A. Crowley, former solicitor for the postoffice department, and James A. Ferguson of Bell county, kin of Farmer Jim, filled out the even dozen gubernatorial aspirants.

Eight weeks ago O'Daniel was unknown to politics—but a household word to rural radio listeners who, for a decade, had heard his informal chats on a commercial flour program. To his casual mention that he might run for governor "against these professional politicians" came a response of 55,000 letters from his radio listeners. He said he took their advice and announced for office.

The dimpled O'Daniel rigged up a sound truck, rounded up his hill billy band and dipped into politics.

Maverick Seeks Re-election.

Congressional contests were spirited only in spots. The bid for re-election by militant Maury Maverick of San Antonio against Prosecutor Paul Kilday topped the list.

However, veteran Congressman Hatton W. Summers, chairman of the house judiciary committee, had formidable opposition in the Dallas district in Tom Love, prohibitionist and former state senator, and Leslie Jackson, a colorful campaigner.

In deep east Texas Rep. Morgan Sanders was pitted against four candidates, Grady Gentry, Walter Russell, Lindley Beckworth and Alton V. Grant.

EAST COAST SWEPT BY HEAVY RAINFALL

rooned four days. Food was delivered to them.

Steady downpours in the Catskills isolated a number of villages.

Rains, carried on high winds, struck the Rochester, N. Y., area last night. Lightning struck at least six buildings causing an estimated $10,000 damage.

Niagara Falls Hit.

Niagara Falls reported a bad storm last night. Cellars were flooded and some damage was done to business stocks.

Albany reported rain for fourteen days this month.

High water stalled nearly 100 cars on the Saw Mill river parkkay between Pleasantville and Hawthorne and some 200 between Yonkers and White Plains.

Heavy Rain in Maine.

Maine reported the wettest July since 1915, with rain falling fifteen of the first twenty-two days, and one and one-half inches more than the normal rainfall recorded. Boston's rainfall for July so far was 7.48 inches, of which 5.87 inches fell this week.

The Connecticut highway department estimated minimum damage of $10,000 caused by road washouts. The week's storms have caused an estimated $1,000,000 damage to the tobacco crop in the Connecticut valley.

In eastern Pennsylvania rain has fallen for seven days, and crops were reported to have suffered the greatest damage in years. Small bridges were swept away near Lancaster. The rainfall in the vicinity for July was 8.45 inches only 1.35 inches under the record for July, set in 1916.

3 Women Tourists Lost In New Mexico

ceived a postcard from them, mailed at Albuquerque Tuesday.

Gov. Clyde Tingley came here early today personally to head the search. Officers equipped themselves with heavy ropes, by which to probe deep crevices in the frozen caverns and in the jagged surrounding lava country.

The women's locked automobile was found on a rough dirt road near the caves, indicating they probably had left it to explore the region on foot. Inside were several bags, part of a lunch, their hats, money and cigarets.

Stopped at Albuquerque.

The women left Albuquerque early Tuesday, after spending the night at a hotel there.

The ice caves—little visited because of their inaccessibility—resemble a natural refrigerator in the manner in which ice formed during winter months is preserved by a peculiar cooling process of winds coming through the crevices of the lava flow.

They are not deep underground, nor are the caverns large, but searchers said there were many crater-like formations into which it would be possible for persons to fall.

Seven To Withdraw As Power Directors

the appointees will serve until next January when directors to be chosen at the coming election will take office.

To Approve Allotment.

With assurance from the district directors that shifts would be made as outlined, Fisher said the REA would approve the additional allotment to the district for continuance of its project development. The allotment, Fisher said, might run as large as a million dollars.

"We (the REA) cannot make an allotment so long as candidates for policy making public offices are on the board," Fisher explained. Though the Nebraska attorney general has ruled the power district directors can run for other public offices without affecting their directorships, Fisher said the REA does not consider that a sound policy.

"The REA regards it a misfortune for rural electrification in Nebraska," he continued, "for non-users and non-rural people to have control of the districts. Controversies on boards of directors are due mostly to people witn no direct connection with the projects."

New Manager To Be Named.

Boyd said, too, it was agreed that the new president of the board—to be elected after the appointments have been made—is not also to be project manager. Dr. Fitzsimmons served in both those capacities. The board now has a new project manager under consideration, but Boyd did not reveal his name.

Arrangements were made at the meeting, Boyd announced, for the payment of $6,000 due to the district's contractor, and directors agreed to clear all outstanding requistions so the new appointed board members can take office without landing in controversy.

While in Nebraska, Boyd cleared the way for speedy okay of funds to build a two mile transmission line which will hookup the district's rural network with Fremont's power plant. Power from the municipality will serve about 300 customers of the district in addition to the 800 now getting power from Tecumseh's plant. Boyd explained, lacked sufficient capacity to serve the 300 new customers.

Grand Circuit Races Once More Postponed

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Me., July 23 — (AP) — Jupe Pluvius tucked his wet blanket a little tighter about the Old Orchard track today and Grand Circuit harness racing officials again threw in the sponge.

Today's card, which was to have seen Billy Direct, 1.58, world's champion pacer, show his wares, was cancelled, the fifth such postponement in six days.

1-Legged Boy 'Okay' At First

WASHINGTON, July 23—(AP)—The Hayes school playground softball team has come up with a star first baseman—one who refused to stay down.

When John Collier was 10 years old, he could play baseball and football better than most boys his age. Then a truck ran over him and he lost his right leg. That was five years ago.

Desperately ill for months, the boy recovered enough to visit the playground as a spectator.

Slowly he learned the art of balance and began taking part in practices. This summer he said he wanted to play first base.

The result has the whole neighborhood talking. John is the Hayes regular first-sacker.

Foxx, Lombardi In Hot Hitting Mood

NEW YORK, July 23—(AP)—Jimmy Foxx, the Boston "strong boy," and Ernie Lombardi, Cincinnati's clouting catcher, "made" the hitting races in the big leagues this week.

Lombardi, ousted from the National league lead a week ago, climbed back to the top during the latest seven-day span, collecting seven hits in 19 chances to hold his .368 average. His teammate, Wally Berger, who led a week ago, dropped to third place with .346, while Ducky Medwick of the Cardinals climbed to the No. 2 slot.

Although Earl Averill retained his American league lead, Foxx, by banging out eight hits in 14 times at bat, boosted his second-place average 11 points to .362, and thereby climbed to within nine points of the Clevelander.

Newcomers in the leading group during the week were George Washington Case of the Senators, who climbed to tenth place in the American league, and Boston's Doc Cramer, who advanced to ninth place, and, in the National league, those Pittsburgh pounders, Arky Vaughan and Johnny Rizzo.

The body will be brought to Lincoln for funeral services and burial.

Sports Roundup

BY SID FEDER.

(Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz)

NEW YORK, July 23—(AP)— The bookies are scared to death about those juicy odds of 20 to 1 they gave on the Reds, 6 to 1 on the Pirates and 10 to 1 on the Red Sox last April . . . Latest figures has 'em backed down to 5-2, 13-10 and 3-1, respectively . . . The Washington Redskins figure Jim Abbott from little Elon college in Cahlina will take up the ball-carrying slack left by Cliff Battles' pro football retirement . . . Wonder what connection, if any, you can find between Dizzy Dean's comeback and Cholly Grimm's heav-o . . . Incidentally, a lot of the boys will be pulling in their ears when Jolly Cholly tells all via the airwaves Sunday . . . 'Tis whispered Rogers Hornsby will be back in Baltimore —as manager—come next season.

MAYBE somebody can tell us why Woody English is passing up $1,000, plus a possible cut of the world series pot, to stay on his honeymoon instead of joining the Reds . . . It just doesn't add up to this corner . . . The Ned Irishes expect a little pro football Boswell or basketball impresario in a couple of weeks . . . Chuck Klein finally discovered what's behind his batting comeback . . . "Seems," says Chuck, "the pitchers are just throwing 'em where I'm swinging" . . . When they took Tony Galento to the hospital with pneumonia, Dan Parker, the Mirror sports ed, relayed the crack about the guy who suspected it was because Tony was hanging around that draught beer all the time . . . Littlest guy in pro football this year will be Reino Nori, the halfback the Chibears picked up from Dekalb college . . . He grosses 148 pounds soaking wet.

WHAT with gals' indoor softball in the Garden, commencing Monday, and jai-alai in the Hippodrome in September, this town won't be at all surprised if someone starts hoss-racing on Times Square any day now . . . Babe Ruth, Ducky Medwick and Johnny Mize will put on an apple-knocking slugging contest for a 50-buck prize before Sunday's game in St. Louis . . . Our dough rides on the Bam . . . Our idea of a right guy in the fight business is Lloyd Montgomery, the young Arkansas walloper . . . Although he got plenty of other bids to fight in bigger towns for sweeter sugar, he passed 'em up to give an old pal a break in a show at Rogers, Ark.

DON'T blame us for this one: Gordon Talbot clouted a foul out of the lot in a semi-pro game at Welland, Ont., the other night . . . The next day he picked up the ball in his furnace . . . It dropped down the chimney of his house near the park . . . If it'll make you heat-sufferers feel any better, the Philly football Eagles start practice Monday . . . Old Primo Carnera, who hasn't heard the Bronx cheer since Leroy Haynes stopped him two years ago, got the Italian version last night when he made his stage debut showing his mus-kels with a dancing company . . . Connie Mack will broadcast on Edgar Guest's "It Can Be Done" program next month, to tell about the pennant his A's are gonna win in the next two years.

MUSIC IN A BANK. . . .

The Union Savings Bank and Trust company of Davenport, Iowa, faced a crisis on September 30, 1931. Someone started a run on the bank.

The situation grew more tense hourly; hundreds of people jammed the lobby of the bank in an effort to withdraw their savings. Mob hysteria, that dangerous, driving force that does not listen to reason, threatened to result in tragedy.

The officers and directors of the bank were at a loss to control the mob and subdue the run. Despite the fact that business men of the community backed the bank and the bank itself was on a sound basis, the depositors were not in a reasoning frame of mind.

Next morning the run continued; the mob still clamored at the bank's windows. Then Fred Zabel, vice president of the institution, got an idea. Working on the assumption that "music hath charms" to soothe disturbed temperaments, a jazz band was hired to play popular selections from the balcony.

Almost like magic the rhythmical strains took effect. The crowd relaxed. Customers tapped their feet on the marble floors—changed their minds and left the bank. Many actually re-deposited their money which they had just taken out!

Next morning found the Union Savings bank on a normal operating basis; the music had completely swept aside the unreasoning fears of the public.

AGED AUTOMOBILE. . . .

Seventeen years ago Gus Gainey, Dunn, North Carolina Negro, bought an automobile for $800.00 cash. The dealer, to close the bargain, threw in five gallons of gasoline.

Happily Gainey drove and drove —until he ran out of gas. The odometer showed 100 miles. Disgustedly, Gainey pushed the car under a shed and decided it was too much of a financial strain to keep it in gas.

Last spring Gainey died, and among his effects was found the car of 1921 vintage. The odometer still showed 100 miles.

PIRATES PULL AHEAD IN NATIONAL LEAGUE DERBY

SHADOW BOXING

by Jack Hurley

CHICAGO, July 23—The New York commission has ruled that Henry Armstrong's newly acquired welterweight crown will not be at stake in his match with Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers, inasmuch as Armstrong will scale under the lightweight limit of 135 pounds. In short, the best Ambers can do is lose his own title. Which adds up to this:

JACK HURLEY

If Ambers defeats Armstrong, he merely will have turned back a challenger for his lightweight honors. But if he desires to annex Armstrong's welterweight title, he'll be forced to repeat his win over Hurricane Henry in another match.

COME, come, gentlemen! Come, come, come! . . . Are you asking the public to believe that the only time Armstrong's welterweight championship is at stake is when he goes to the post against an opponent weighing more than 135 pounds? . . . Phooey! Baloney! Fiddlesticks! And all other expressions of rot! . . . You know that's silly and inconsistent, because this same Armstrong only weighed 133 pounds when he won the welterweight title from Barney Ross . . . And what's more important—the match was sanctioned by you and staged under your jurisdiction.

HENRY ARMSTRONG has been duly crowned welterweight champion of the world by your august body, which means that he can lick anyone in the world able to make the required poundage of 147 pounds . . . It also means that any time he crawls into the ring with an opponent weighing less than 147 pounds, his title is at stake . . . And it doesn't make any difference whether the opponent's name is Lou Ambers, General John J. Phelan or Douglas Corrigan . . . If this is not true, my dear commissioners, then please give me a reason for these so-called over-weight matches I have been hearing so much about.

EDDIE MEADE, manager of Henry Armstrong, was a loop visitor last week . . . He advises that Mike Jacobs is desirous of opening the Garden indoor boxing season with an Armstrong-Garcia welterweight championship match, but from the trend of Meade's conversation, we gathered that Meade favored Hollywood and the 10-round route . . . Meade also advanced the information that he has been appointed American representative of Melicia Theodoresco, Georges Carpentier's Belgian welterweight protege.

MAX SCHMELING was so confident he was going to repeat his knockout over Joe Louis that he told friends he would let the battle go a few rounds for the benefit of the motion pictures . . . In order to stimulate business, Jack Dempsey's Broadway cocktail lounge is showing movies of the Manassa Mauler's fights against Jess Willard, Bill Brennan, Georges Carpentier, Tommy Gibbons, Luis Angel Firpo, and Gene Tunney.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN, who used safety-first tactics throughout his career, boxes daily with Matt Raymond, his heavyweight protege, and is concentrating on attack rather than defense . . . Because of a recent schnozzle operation, Carl Vinciquerra, Omaha heavyweight, will be out of action until September . . . Bob Pastor may receive a setback at the hands of Maxie Rosenbloom in Hollywood August 5 . . . Red Burman, Baltimore heavyweight, is the proud father of a seven-pound son.

GENE TUNNEY, who has acted in the role of referee for several amateur boxing tournaments, does not compare with Jack Dempsey or Jimmy Braddock as a ring arbiter . . . Incidentally, Braddock's New York restaurant still is doing business regardless of bankruptcy proceedings . . . Otto J. Jeffries of Detroit, is the only colored referee in the United States who holds a license to officiate in legalized boxing matches . . . He is a former Indiana lightweight boxer, but now tips the scales at 225 pounds.

JUNIORS READY FOR TOURNEYS

Legion Eliminations To Have Their Start In Sunday Games.

OMAHA, July 23—(AP)—With the Omaha McDevitts, seeking their second consecutive state championship and 25 other teams determined they won't get it, Nebraska American Legion junior baseball will enter the closing stages in six Nebraska towns Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Two Dozen Teams.

Twenty-four teams, all district winners, will compete in the regionals, and two others, Broken Bow and Falls City, who drew byes, will join the six regional winners in the two sub-state tournaments starting the latter part of next week at sites to be determined later. Winners of sub-state tournaments will play a three-game series for the title.

Regional elimination opens Sunday at West Point, Fremont, North Platte, Howell and McCook.

The Lincoln tournament is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday.

At Fremont, McDevitts meet Omaha Murphy-Did-Its in the first game, and Fremont plays Wahoo in the second. Pairings at other towns will be made when the tourney opens.

Four Compete In Lincoln.

The remaining teams and their regional centers are:

West Point—Neligh, Newman Grove, West Point and Macy Indians.

North Platte—Henry, Chadron, Oshkosh and North Platte.

Howell — Wausa, Ravenna, Howell and Central City.

McCook—Grand Island, McCook, Minden and Oxford.

Lincoln—Lincoln Blues (runner-up in 1937), Beatrice, York and Plattsmouth.

McCook and Fremont have bid for the sub-state tournaments.

Two Games Monday.

The program for the tournament in Lincoln provides for a Monday afternoon doubleheader at Landis Field, first game at 1 o'clock. The two winning clubs will clash Tuesday at 2 p. m., also at Landis, in the tourney finals.

Texas League.

Houston, 6; Oklahoma City, 0.

By ANTHONY J. PUGLIESE.

NEW YORK, July 23—(INS)—Daily, and with increasing concern on the part of the other contenders, the Pittsburgh Pirates are looming more formidable in the torrid National league pennant scramble.

Pie Traynor's boys are out in front of the second place New York Giants by two full games today, and the way they're winning the close ones, the Buccaneers seem destined to be front runners for some time to come.

Pirates Squeeze Ahead.

For the second straight day, the Pirates yesterday won by one run, this time taking over the Boston Bees, 4 to 3, despite Vince DiMaggio's ninth - inning home run with a mate on base. As Darrel (Cy) Blanton held the Bees to seven hits for his sixth straight win, Paul Waner, the veteran outfielder, hit for the circuit to aid the Pirates to victory.

The Giants were rained out at Chicago. The Cincinnati Reds and the Philadelphia Phillies split even in a twin bill, Cincinnati winning the first game, 5 to 2, before dropping a slugging bee, 11 to 10.

Cards Pulverize Dodgers.

Aided by homers by Johnny Mize, Herb Bremer and Don Padgett, who paced a 15-hit attack, the St. Louis Cardinals took a 12 to 3 decision from the Brooklyn Dodgers. Lon Warneke held the Brooks to seven hits to score his seventh victory.

While the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox were rained out in New York—the enforced rest being the Yankees' third straight—the Cleveland Indians fell to a full game out of first place by losing to the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 4. Bob Feller, charged with his fifth loss, was knocked off the rubber.

The St. Louis Browns took a 9 to 7 slugfest decision from the Washington Senators and the Detroit Tigers were washed out at Philadelphia.

YANKS SWEEP CINDER RACES

Americans Win 14 Events From Europeans At Stockholm.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 23—(AP)—A team of eight American track and field athletes won 14 events in a three-day international meet here, but to Ray Malott of Stanford university and the San Francisco Olympic club go most of the honors.

Malott Steals Show.

Malott, whose specialty is the quarter-mile, turned in two individual victories and broke two Swedish records, then rounded out his performances by running on two victories relay teams. Wednesday he was clocked in 47.8 seconds, good time in any race, for the 400 meters, and yesterday he ran 300 meters in 33.4 to set another Swedish mark and come within a fifth of a second of the world record, made in 1921 by Charley Paddock.

The only one to come near Malott's feats was tow-headed Freddie Wolcott of Rice. He won two 110-meter hurdle races in 14.2 and 13.9, then switched to 200 meters yesterday and topped the timbers in 24.8.

Europeans Win Weights.

The Scandinavian forces cleaned up in the weight events, but won only two flat races, the two-miles Thursday and the 800 meters yesterday. B. Andersson of Sweden took the latter in 1:52.8, a half second faster than Howie Borck of Manhattan, who was second.

Lundquist of Sweden tied Gil Cruter of Colorado in the high jump at 6 feet 4 3-16 inches, but George Varoff took the pole vault for the second time at 13 feet 4½ inches and Malott, Pete Zagar, the weight-tosser, Ben Johnson, Columbia university sprint star, and Wolcott made up a 400-meter relay team that won in 42.1 seconds.

The next meet scheduled for the American team is at Norrkoping tomorrow.

Americans Upset British.

LONDON, July 23—(AP)—The combined Princeton-Cornell track team today clinched victory in its ninth meet with Oxford-Cambridge by capturing first place in eight of the first 10 events on the 12-event program.

Competing at White City stadium before a huge crowd, the Americans started with a victory by "Ham" Hucker of Cornell in the 120-yard high hurdles and then clinched the meet when Richard Patterson of Princeton cleared 12 feet 6 inches to win the pole vault.

Hucker also won the 220-yard low hurdles, while his teammate, Jim Pender, accounted for a double by taking the 100-yard and 220-yard sprints.

Two-Ton On Sick Bed; Fight Cancelled

Over The State.

By ALEX STODDARD.

RUMOR has it that Virgil Yelkin, former University of Nebraska football end and last year head coach at South Sioux City high, is one of the leading candidates for the Columbus high coaching post . . . Yelkin compiled a good record at South Sioux City, including a winning football season, classy basketball record and a banner year in track . . . One of his pupils, Bob McArthur, accounted for the only new state high school track record in the 1938 meet when he raced the 440 in two-tenths of a second under the previous standard . . . Yelkin is in Lincoln for the summer, playing third base and left field for the Woodmen baseball team, present leader in the City league.

AUBURN racing enthusiasts are anticipating the most successful meeting in history . . . The nags open competition at the Nemaha county fair grounds there Aug. 16, and success of racing at the Ak-Sar-Ben track in Omaha and at Madison lends encouragement to Auburn fans . . . About 200 horses will be stabled in the barns during the meeting . . . Entrance of the Omaha Hamms in the state semi-pro baseball tournament, starting next Thursday at Holdrege, brings the official entry list to 10 . . . Entrance of York and Wahoo, two of the state's leading teams, is doubtful . . . Also, Ogallala, pace-setter in the Central Nebraska league, may be missing . . . Ogallala is playing in the Denver Post tournament now in progress.

CHARLEY MIEGEL, Lincoln's leading lightweight and featherweight amateur scrapper, will mix with Martin Helzer of Palmer on the Aug. 1 amateur boxing show at Fremont . . . Falls City tennisers beat Morrill, Kas., 5-3 . . . Wahoo virtually has clinched the Elkhorn Valley pennant for 1938 . . . Leading by one game and two to play, Wahoo needs only an even split to clinch a tie for the title . . . Wahoo, defeated by David City last Sunday, came back to blast Oakland, 6-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Carlson . . . Fred Vette equalled the course record at the Beatrice country club with a 31, four under par, his card including five birdies, three pars and one buzzard . . . Hastings tennisers will have an opportunity to play on three concrete courts now under construction at the Tennis club there . . . The courts will be reserved for members in the evenings, but the public may use the layouts during the day.

OGALLALA will attempt to hold its Central Nebraska leadership Sunday at Holdrege . . . Gothenburg tackles Kearney and Broken Bow meets Lexington in other loop games . . . Only two games in the Elkhorn Valley are Scribner at Schuyler and Arlington at Hooper . . . Mid-State schedule shows Schuyler at Clarks, Bellwood at Stanton, Dodge at Leigh, Howells at Rock Creek and Snyder at St. Johns . . . Eastern Nebraska games are Lyons at Wisner, Bancroft at Tekamah and West Point at Pender.

Reformers Trail Congress Outfit

The National Baseball Congress team, in training for the exhibition jaunt to England, handed the Reformatory a sound lacing, 14-3, Friday evening on the Reformatory diamond.

Les Mann, N. B. C. secretary directing the workouts, used 19 of his 30 candidates in the game.

The N. B. C. team was to play the State Penitentiary Saturday afternoon. The score:

BLUES NEXT ON LINCOLN SLATE

Beatrice Opposes Links Tonight and In Two Games Sunday.

SATURDAY LADIES' NIGHT.

Saturday will be ladies' night at Landis Field as the Links open a series with Beatrice, the game starting at 8:30. Boss "Pug" Griffin of the Links has named Mickey Kolesar to pitch. Sunday, the Links and Beatrice meet in two games, at 3 and 8:30, and George Redbird and Bill Anderson likely will get the pitching assignments for the Links.

Lincoln and Norfolk split a pair of wild State league baseball games Friday night at Landis Field, the Links winning the opener by a 14-6 count as Norfolk walked off with the second, 19-4. A bargain night crowd of 1,000 was on hand for the twin program.

Pickup Winning Pitcher.

Tony Johnson, picked up by the Links when released recently by Sioux Falls, hurled creditable ball in the first game, allowing eight scattered hits and only one earned run. Meantime, the Links picked on Derry and Hanrahan for six in the second and four each in the third and fourth to account for the victory.

The nightcap was a different story. Lincoln escaped trouble in the first inning, but Hraba was driven to the showers in the second in the midst of an eight-run rally. Anderson lasted through the fourth, then Howe took over and all were equally ineffective.

Homered Inside Park.

Marion DeJarnett and Ted Kakoliris were the only Links to solve Orr's pitching, DeJarnett slapping three hits, "Kak" getting a homer and triple and Gregory accounting for Lincoln's other base blow, a looping single.

DeJarnett homered inside the park in the first game, then Kakoliris duplicated in the second, both balls rolling to the center field fence.

Meantime, Grand Island nipped Sioux Falls, 3-2, although outhit, while Sioux City measured Beatrice, 7-3. The scores:

TEXAS BABE TO WED BIG, STRONG FELLER

ST. LOUIS, July 23—(INS)—Miss Mildred "Babe" Didrikson, famous woman athlete of Beaumont, Tex., and George Zaharias, Pueblo, Colo., heavyweight wrestler, are engaged to be married, they revealed here today.

"We've very much in love," Miss Didrikson said.

The couple declined to say when the wedding would take place, but Zaharias admitted, "Pretty soon."

The wedding, Miss Didrikson said, will be held in Beaumont or in Pueblo.

"I met George at the Los Angeles open golf tournament January 7, 1938, and we've been seeing a lot of each other ever since," Miss Didrikson said.

Galento Bowled Over By Pneumonia; Bout With Lewis Called Off By Promoter.

By LAWTON CARVER.

ORANGE, N. J., July 23—(INS)—Tony Galento, short, burly idol of the Jerseyites and No. 1 challenger for the world heavyweight championship, lay ill today in Orange Memorial hospital, victim of a sudden attack of pneumonia which knocked him out of the biggest fight of his career.

A bulletin issued at the hospital this morning said Galento had a "good chance" for recovery. He spent the entire night in an oxygen tent set up over his bed.

Idol of His Followers.

And thousands of followers, many of them almost worshipers of his antics, spoke of little else except the barrel-bodied tavern keeper's illness and of the fact that he would not be able to meet John Henry Lewis, the light-heavyweight champion, at Philadelphia next Tuesday night after all.

These followers are the ones who many a time have bent their elbow over Galento's bar and sipped with him of his big steins of beer, which he insisted kept him in shape for his ring engagements. That and Mrs. Galento's spaghetti. He trained on it and thrived on it.

He was rushed to the hospital late yesterday with a temperature of 104 and immediately placed in an oxygen tent.

Fight Called Off.

The heavy-fisted, short-armed and pudgy rough-and-tumbler first complained of illness Thursday night after he completed heavy training for the scheduled fight, and gradually yesterday his condition grew worse, with the result that Promoter Herman Taylor of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania boxing commission officials were summoned.

Soon thereafter, Galento was taken from his home to the hospital in an ambulance, accompanied by his manager, Joe Jacobs.

The Philadelphia fight, scheduled for the sesquicentennial stadium hwhere eDempsey lost t championship to Tunney in 1926, was to be for 15 rounds, although no title was to be at stake, and it was regarded as a $150,000 promotion.

Trained As Never Before.

It was to be Galento's stepping stone toward a match with Max Baer or Champion Joe Louis, and the rotund belter had trained for this one as he never had before. The suet ran off his body in rivulets, until finally his weight was down to 227 pounds. Then this illness spoiled it all.

And it spoiled it for the customers, too, for, while they never had any illusions about Galento's ability as a polished gladiator, he has the two things they love—a wallop and a weird sort of rough-house color.

That Deadly Left.

He also gave them a fight, with elbows and an occasional head-shake in close that might be construed as an accidental butt, and when he popped an opponent with that left hook of his he stayed popped.

That helped to earn him National Boxing association ranking as the No. 1 challenger, leaving for him just one goal—a bout with Louis for the championship.

And he probably still will want it when he gets out of the hospital, if the pneumonia doesn't end his career.

In Galento's words:

"Louis is a nice fellow, a fine boxer and a very hard puncher—but he's still a bum."

Storm Intrudes To Halt Golfmen

OLYMPIA FIELDS, July 23—(INS)—Chicago's second annual $5,000 open golf championship got off to a new start here today, following cancellation of yesterday's first 18-hole round when a cloudburst and lightning storm struck late in the afternoon with about one-fourth of the 389 field still out on the drenched courses.

Instead of going 72 holes, the tournament now becomes a 54-hole affair. The players go into action on the courses to which they were originally assigned for what was to have been the second 18-hole round today.

To equalize matters because of the difference in par on the two of Olympia's four courses being utilized, Nos. 1 and 4, it was decided to qualify the low 24 pros and 12 amateurs off of each course after today's round for the 36-hole windup tomorrow.

Oak Park Man Low.

The cancellation of yesterday's round worked a hardship on players who turned in the lowest scores, but they all took it optimistically.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Oak Park pro, had been assured of the first-day lead with his snappy 33-34—67 over No. 1 course, as none of the 80 or 90 players still on the courses appeared to have any chance of coming near the tally with which he had tied the course record set in the 1927 western open by Walter Hagen.

MICKEY PLANS RESUME PLAY

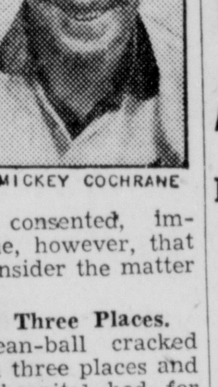

Detroit Pilot, Once Badly Injured, May Get Back In Playing Duds.

DETROIT, July 23—(AP)—Tiger Town's baseball fandom awaited today in more or less suspense — and considerable skepticism — the decision of Manager Mickey Cochrane on whether to return to an active role as Detroit's catcher.

The verdict was entirely up to "Black Mike," whose brilliant playing career was cut short by a disastrous bean-ball in the spring of 1937, but who now has the consent of his own front office to play again if his judgment permits.

First Say By Doctors.

Word from Philadelphia, last point on Detroit's current doleful eastern tour, said Cochrane would not make up his mind until physicians have examined him again and baseball men indicated his decision would come then only after further serious study.

MICKEY COCHRANE

At any rate, Mickey may essay a come-back if he wishes. It was disclosed late yesterday that Walter O. Briggs, Tiger president, has consented, impressing Cochrane, however, that he first must "consider the matter seriously."

Skull Cracked Three Places.

When the bean-ball cracked Mickey's skull in three places and laid him in a hospital bed for weeks, the fiery pilot had to give up a playing post and become a bench manager. Briggs at the time insisted on that. Ever since, however, Cochrane has fretted about being unable to get behind the plate, and asked how the club-owner felt about his returning.

Observers were uncertain whether Cochrane's immediate return would greatly aid the slumping Tigers, whose seven straight defeats have dropped them into sixth place in the American league.

Out of Condition.

Besides, whatever physical peril his return might involve, Cochrane apparently would face additional problems. He's just past 35, and may need some conditioning to get in shape. And it would preclude an uninterrupted development of Detroit's young catchers, Birdie Tebbetts and Rudy York.

York himself is out of action because of a beanball injury, but is expected back in play within a week.

Since Manager Mike is only a bench pilot now and on the voluntary retired list, he must apply for reinstatement before Aug. 1 if he hopes to get into action this season.

Amateur GOLF

BY JOHNNY HOWELL.

THE Pioneers Golf association met Friday evening to discuss final plans for the qualifying rounds for the National Public Links golf tournament as presented by the committee in charge of the qualifying rounds. Members of the committee are Lin Crain, Ed Schmid and Fred Kissler.

Special ground rules were presented to the association and were accepted. These rules will govern play in the qualifying rounds and will be posted on the bulletin board at the Pioneers' club-house. The golfer sent to the national tourney at Cleveland will be the low medalist in 72-hole medal play, 36 holes to be played on both July 31 and August 7.

Entry fee will be $1, which does not include green fees, and must be made at the Pioneers club-house not later than 5 p. m., July 30.

ANOTHER tournament has been authorized by the Pioneers association for those golfers who feel they lack the skill to enter the public links qualifying rounds. The plan calls for match play, with one match being run off each week. The 18-hole qualifying rounds are to be played either Saturday or Sunday of this week-end.

All entries must be filed at the club-house not later than 7 p. m. Sunday evening. The entry fee is 50 cents, not including greens fee, and can be made at the club. Rules governing this tourney will also be placed on the bulletin board in the club-house. Prizes will be given in all flights.

THE City Golf Tournament association will meet at East Hills Saturday at 8 p. m. to complete plans for the city golf tournament, scheduled to get under way Aug. 14.

The representatives of the association are Lin Crain, Pioneers; Don Pegler, Country club; Ralph Scott, Broadview; and Charlie Koontz, East Hills.

THE City Scratch league will wind up its play for the season Sunday.

In the last scheduled matches, Lawlors will oppose Lincoln Pack, The Star will meet Wilsons, Reeds will match shots with Murrells.

TENNISMEN IN ACTION SUNDAY

Racquet Swingers Start Tournament Grind In Local Circles.

City tennis tournament contenders will start swinging racquets Sunday at the Lincoln Tennis club courts as the men's singles and doubles get under way. Entries in the women's division will close Sunday night and play will start Monday. The junior division will open its play Tuesday and the mixed doubles will begin Wednesday. All first-round matches in both the singles and the doubles in the men's division must be played Sunday.

Men's Entries.

Entries to date in the men's singles include Paul Halpine, defending champion and strong favorite to repeat; Paul Mahood, winner of the men's singles title several times in years past; Johnny Detrich, member of the Nebraska team that holds the Big Six doubles title; Merlin Mason, former state junior champion; George Dobson, champion of the Telephone company; Mark Bullock, public parks champion of last year; Dick Spradling, former Lincoln high ace; Charles Sager, Crete, slated to be seeded No. 3 or 4; Harold Rundle, Nebraska U. ace; Johnny Huston, state high school champion, and Charles Eberline, public parks doubles champion.

Doubles Partners.

In the doubles, Gregg McBride will team with George Dobson, Mason with Mahood, Detrich with Halpine and Rundle with Huston.

The Lawyers beat the Insurance team 6-1, 6-2, in the only match played Friday in the Commercial tennis league.
